

Here's a New Joy— Peppy-Peppermint!

A new WRIGLEY chewing gum with DOUBLE strength Peppermint flavor—

DOUBLE wrapped and sealed to keep it good.

It is delightful and the delight is long lasting—

It's like a Peppermint Lozenge that you can chew and CHEW!

It has lots of "Pep"—you can't lose the flavor.

And with each 5c package you get a

United Profit Sharing Coupon

good toward many valuable presents.

Try this new joy today!

Made by the manufacturers of the famous

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT
SPICY MINT LEAF JUICE

United Profit-Sharing Coupons
now with both.

10

HOG MARKET TAKES A TURN FOR BETTER

Trade This Morning is Slow But Prices Are Slightly Higher.—
Cattle Market Steady.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Trade in hogs was slow this morning but prices took a turn upward which indicates that the declining movement is at an end. Bulk of sales ranged from $7.10 to $7.30. The cattle market was steady with the top at $10.80. Sheep trade continued firm with few changes in quotations. Following is the summary of the market conditions:

Cattle—Receipts 6,090; market steady; heaves 6.15@10.80; Texas steers 5.75@8.75; stockers and feeders 4.80@7.30; cows and heifers 3.20@8.70; calves 7.00@11.00.

Hogs—Receipts 18,000; market slow, 5c@10c above yesterday's average; light 6.90@7.55; mixed 6.95@7.00; heavy 6.90@7.65; rough 6.90@7.05; pigs 4.35@6.35; bulk of sales 7.10@7.30.

Sheep—Receipts 25,000; market firm; sheep 4.90@6.05; yearlings 5.60@6.50; lambs, native 6.10@7.55.

Butter—Unchanged.

Eggs—Higher; receipts 4,545 cases; cases at mark, cases included 17@23; ordinary firsts 21@22; prime firsts 23@24.

Potatoes—Unchanged; 75 cars.

Poultry—Alive: Lower; fowls 11@12; springs 11@12.

Wheat—Dec: Opening 1.16; high 1.16; low 1.15; closing 1.15; May: Opening 1.22; high 1.22; low 1.20; closing 1.20.

Corn—Dec: Opening 68; high 69; low 68; closing 68; May: Opening 71; high 72; low 71; closing 71.

Oats—Dec: Opening 50; high 51; low 50; closing 50; May: Opening 53; high 54; low 53; closing 53.

Rye—No. 2, 93.

Barley—No. 2, 76.

Cash Market.

Wheat—No. 2, red 1.13@1.15; No. 2 hard 1.13@1.15.

Corn—No. 2, yellow 75@74; No. 3 yellow 75@74.

Oats—No. 3 white 48@49; standard 49@50.

Clover—$11@14.

Timothy—$4.00@5.50.

Pork—$17.

Lard—$10.62.

Ribs—$10.50@11.50.

Review of Wednesday's Market.

Chicago, October 22.—Nearly a third more hogs arrived yesterday than the trade expected, but a flood of 70@130 lb. pigs were at hand, the closing hog market was strong, while pigs dropped 10@25c, showing $1.25 decline compared with a week ago.

Very few choice hogs were among the cattle receipts, which were 4,000 beyond expectations. The quality was poorest of the season, only twenty loads selling above $9.90, while the best, selling at $10.85, were within 20c of the year's high point.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $7.25, against $7.23 Tuesday, $7.64 a week ago, $8.75 a month ago, $7.79 a year ago, $8.50 two years ago and $8.25 three years ago.

Hog Range Narrower.

Buyers narrowed the hog range still more, the top being 7½ lower than Tuesday, while the average advanced 3c, standing 89c lower than a week ago, with the top of $7.42 from previous Wednesday. Packing droves, 234@265 lbs., cost $7.20@7.41; 220 lbs., $7.31; 350 lbs., 7.20, and 100@110 lb. pigs $6.50@6.42. Quotations follow:

Bulk of sales ..... $7.05@7.45

Heavy butchers and shipping ..... 7.35@7.50

Light butchers, 190@230
lbs. .... 7.30@7.62½

Light bacon, 145@190 lbs. 6.90@7.45

Heavy packing, 200@400
lbs. .... 7.00@7.30

Mixed packing, 200@250
lbs. .... 6.90@7.25

Rough, heavy packing
..... 6.80@6.95

Poor to best pigs, 60@135
lbs. .... 4.00@6.85

Stags, 80 lbs. dockage per head ..... 7.00@7.50

Common Cattle Neglected

Trade in common to fair steers and butcher stock was in demoralized shape, many grassy cows and in-between beef cattle selling 80c@81c lower than a fortnight ago. Choice beef sold strong to 10c higher than Monday. Veal calves 25c off from Monday. Quotations follow:

Choice to fancy steers ... $8.75@10.85

Right of Way for STANDARD

When STANDARD comes along all other brands give way—for STANDARD is real tobacco for real men.

This pure Kentucky tobacco is the great favorite with men of vigor. It is full-bodied and satisfying. It gets its pleasant richness from the natural aging we give it for three to five years.

And that is what keeps its quality up, always the same, no matter what the year's crop may be.

STANDARD

Long Cut Tobacco

has given prime pleasure to manly men for over half a century. A STANDARD man never switches to another brand; he knows he's just losing time and pleasure on a needless experiment. Many brands come and go into the discard—but old STANDARD is still in the lead.

There's a snappy taste to STANDARD that policemen and other big fellows like.
It's got that man-size quality about it; not one of those insipid, next-to-nothing tobaccos —but the big king-brand for the he-men on the force.

A week's trial will make you a permanent user of STANDARD—go to it today.

Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 15c, 30c and 35c Packages.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

MILTON

Milton, Oct. 21.—A missionary meeting composed of the women's circles of the Milton Junction and Milton S.
D. B. churches, was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Croley Tuesday afternoon. Enthusiastic speeches were made by Mesdames O. U. Whitford,
L. A. Platts, H. M. Burdick, and J. H.
Babcock favoring the raising of money for the erection of a hospital at Lieou-oo, China where Dr. Palmberg and Grace Crandall are stationed.

A social hour, when ice cream and cakes were served, was also enjoyed by the company.

"The Play's
the Thing"

We shall so play our part as to continue to merit your absolute confidence in

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes

Their reputation for worthiness and exclusiveness of style is fortified by Sixty Years of Knowing How.

The Stein-Bloch Co.
Rochester, N. Y.

GOLDEN EAGLE

FORTT YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 22, 1874.—A great number of citizens were present at the dedicatory ceremonies of the 4th ward school building yesterday afternoon.

Go to the opera house this evening to hear Frank Howard's great composition—the Mystic Rose.

Ford & Clark at the Farmer's Mill are now ready with their celebrated buckwheat patent flour, $4.00 per 100.

The finest quality of winter wheat flour, $3.50 per 100, for superior quality and cheapness of price the place is unexcelled.

Two more weeks of pleasant weather will permit the finish of the walls of the cotton factory. In a few days the committee will let the contracts for the roof and the high powered water wheels as several representative of respective concerns in this line are already on the grounds.

This afternoon a boy, 13 years of age, was taken before the police justice on the charge of being heavily drunk yesterday. The boy has been disorderly at times—almost incorrigible—so much so in fact that his father desired keeping him under control. He had been in court before but promising to do better was released. Yesterday he was led astray by an older companion and induced to drink until he had too much.

Justice Patten thought there was a possibility for reform and will put Thomas out on a farm as that place is better than the reform school.

The second performance of the Mystic Rose was given at the opera house last evening. All the seats in the dress circle were taken and the remainder of the house held a goodly number. As the performance was well rendered and pleased the large audience to the fullest extent.

WHITEWATER

Whitewater, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Albert Salisbury and sister, Miss Margaret Hosford left this morning for Chicago to visit Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Peterson.

Miss Mary McCutcheon went to Chicago on Thursday to stay over Sunday. She will meet Miss Anna
Greene who is enroute to her home at Sierra Madre, California.

Mrs. Frances McCutcheon started Thursday morning for Chicago to spend two months at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Earl Deakin.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Howe of Lancaster, Wisconsin came Wednesday to spend the day at the George S.
Marsh residence leaving Thursday for Chicago.

The body of Albert Brown was brought to Whitewater for burial on Tuesday. The services at Hillside cemetery were in charge of A. J.
Weaver of the Morris Pratt Institute.

Mrs. Will Rieder is entertaining her niece from Milwaukee.

Special Showing of our New Fall Party
Dresses.

Simpson's

• GARMENT STORE •

Special Showing of our New Fall Party
Dresses.

THE GREATEST VALUES ARE REPRESENTED IN OUR

SALE of SILK and WOOL DRESSES

FEATURING SILK FROCKS AT $13.50
AND WOOL FROCKS AT $7.50.

Those who have attended this sale within the last day or two have marveled at the unusual values in these dresses at this time of the season. You will be surprised also.

While we have sold scores we will have an unbroken assortment for tomorrow and Saturday.
None but the new Fall styles are included—we have no others—and every style is charming in its individual mode.

We suggest that you do not let this week go by without purchasing one of these dresses.

The Janesville Gazette
New Bldg., 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.
BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-DAY EVENING.
MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS
WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair tonight and Friday; increasing cloudiness with probably showers west portion.

PROGRESS GONE TO SEED.
Even the Milwaukee Free Press sees the light of day and under the caption which appears above, discusses the latest movement of the ultra progressive elements of the state to secure the passage of the amendments to the state constitution which will be voted on at the November election, and warns the voters from casting their ballots in the affirmative. Coming as it does from the Free Press, long the advocate of the most progressive ideas, the editorial is worth more than passing comment. It of course praises Governor McGovern for the stand he has taken in the matter, one would expect that in view of the fact McGovern is now a candidate for the senatorial honors, but it also is written in such a manner that one can read between the lines and see that the Free Press is trying to impress on the voters that the progressive idea—the Wisconsin idea—has been carried too far.
The editorial in full reads as follows:

Few politically independent citizens of Wisconsin will care to deny that the progressive movement in this state has of late years exceeded the speed limit.
The movement has been productive of much legislation that is sound, corrective and constructive, legislation essential to the economic and social progress of the state, and which even those conservatives who opposed it at the time of its inception, accept today at its demonstrated value.

But as the progressive movement lost its character as a vital popular protest against the stagnation of the old order, as it degenerated into more and more a matter of political asset, a claim by means of which certain politicians believed themselves tied to office, so-called progressive legislation became more a matter of fashion and expediency than of essential principle.

As a result, laws have been passed and appropriations made, recklessly, superficially and heedlessly, and the single excuse offered was their alleged "progressiveness." No proposal so novel or difficult, so unexplored or untried, but that it could obtain majority in the halls of legislation, providing it had somewhere obtained the label, "progressive" or was championed by some "progressive" leader.

It is this headlong tendency of recent legislation has been checked and mitigated, the thanks are due to Governor McGovern who has consistently exerted such pressure in the direction of sanity and conservatism as was compatible with the powers of his office. But not infrequently the tide proved too strong for him.

Against this false and opportunistic
"progressiveness" the people of Wisconsin have begun to enter a serious protest; and, for that matter, so have the people of many another enlightened state where this same political exploitation of the forward movement has become hostile to the welfare of the community.

We recall this distinction between Wisconsin's early progressive movement, with its product of carefully devised reform legislation, and its degenerate offspring, with its plea of halfhearted efficiency, not because the proposed constitutional amendments, providing for the initiative and other like instruments, are one of the forerunners of the latter period.

Entirely apart from the essential merits and demerits of these instruments the form which they were given by the legislature of 1911 is incompatible with the best constructive thought on the subject. It is a hopeless legislation of the worst proba-tive type, legislation accomplished post-haste because the initiative and the referendum were at that time the fashionable cry of the professional saviors of the people.

The Free Press has always doubted that any real demand for direct legislation was widespread in this state.
Such demand as made itself heard was largely of artificial inspiration due to agitators. Certainly, the legislative conditions have not been such as to require popular check or stimulation in anything, the reverse has been the case.

However, even if there still exists any, desire for the initiative and the referendum on the part of any considerable body of citizens, they can not,
if they have the slightest conception of these instruments, desire them grafted upon our system of government in the dangerous and ill-considered form provided in the proposed constitutional amendments.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION.
It is an old saying that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. The following article, from the American Medical Journal, emphasizes the truthfulness of the statement, and merits wider publicity because of its importance.

"There are about 300,000 blind people in the United States. It costs about $15,000,000 a year to support them. Probably 75 per cent of this blindness is due to two causes, namely, sore eyes at birth and neglected eyes during early school life. The first cause can be removed in the simplest manner. All that is necessary is for the doctor or midwife to drop into the eyes of the newly born baby a few drops of a 2 per cent solution of nitrate of silver. This will kill the germs that produce the disease which almost fills so many blind asylums.

and cared for in early life. Eye diseases are frequently quite simple at the start, but rapidly become worse if neglected. The eyes of schoolchildren should be examined every year, and diseases and defects detected.

Local boards of health could do this if they had sufficient money to hire competent doctors or school nurses, but boards of health are proverbially "hard up," and usually have not enough available money.
Boards of education could employ doctors or nurses, but boards of education are also often insufficiently supplied with money.

School teachers can do this work without additional expense. Instructions have been published in periodicals and books many times, and the plan is perfectly easy and practical.
When accomplished it will be as great a blessing to the teachers as to the scholars; for by transforming stupid children to bright children, their daily work will be much easier.
Teachers cannot and should not attempt to diagnose or treat eye diseases, but by the accepted tests they can tell that something is the matter.
At the same time that the eye tests are made, the teacher should also examine the ears, noses and throats of her pupils. Simple methods for such examinations can be learned in a few minutes by any competent teacher.

Dr. Cronin has found that 30 per cent of schoolchildren were two years behind their grades and that 90 per cent of this is due to eye, ear, nose and throat diseases or defects.
He examined 150 defectives in one school and found that 137 of them had ear, nose and throat defects, and that thirteen of them had eye defects.
These conditions were relieved and in six months 75 per cent of the children were re-examined. They were all doing well and were rapidly advancing in school. Their character had also remarkably changed for the better. Such a plan which has been successfully carried out in over 200 towns and cities during the past year involves no expense to the taxpayers, relieves the medical profession of the suspicion of urging medical inspection of schools for selfish reasons and enables the teacher to separate the normal pupil from the defective and to recognize the defects in vision which some of her pupils labor.

It would appear as though Colonel Roosevelt shot off the wrong bolt when he listened to his friend Henry Cochran and wrote the letter supporting Blaine for the gubernatorial election. He did not know conditions in Wisconsin or he would never have put his foot in it by such a letter.

The motorists appreciate the good roads of the city and heartily approve of the system of piling which our councilmen have adopted. It places Janesville on the map of cities that are progressive.

These mild October days give plenty of opportunity for the lovers of nature to view its glories in the autumn refractions. Nature has given to the woods and fields.

Good sound, conservative business interests as evinced by the managers of Janesville industries does not place this city in the list of communities that are suffering from the so called hard times.

Your townswoman is cooking on all four sides of the stove. You see it does not require an expert to demonstrate this stove to the people. Talk to Lowell.

On The Spur of The Moment
Where, oh where, is Mrs. Pankhurst?
Doesn't anybody know?
What's become of old man Eueria?
Where did Felix Diaz go?
Haven't heard a word from Funston
Since he touched a foreign shore.
Where are Dr. Goss and Dr. Goss?
What's become of Theodore?

Where's the old Chautauqua circuit
That we heard so much about?
And that war in Colorado?
Missing—yes, beyond a doubt.
Where is Wananaker's airship?
And the brave Lieutenant Porte?
Where's that railroad rate decision
That was sent down by the court?

What's become of Capt. Hobson?
Where's the Uster conflict now?
Where is old Sir Thomas Lipton?
Where's that war in Mexico?
Where are all the bas-ball heroes?
Where has old Clip Castro strayed?
Where, oh, where, is Dr. Friedman?
And his cure, oh, where delayed?

Tell us where's Sir Edward Carson?
What's become of Carrie Catt?
Where's the feathers, light and heavies,
All the 12 pieces of the mat?
Where are all these old space eaters?
Find 'em, brother, if you can.
The old first page is nothing
Like it was when war began.

There ain't no guy kin wreck my home
And starve my family just because Some other king across the sea
Has made a face or wagged his jaws.
There ain't no guy kin say: "You're mine"
Your bones and flesh belong to me."
For I live where the livin's fine—Where every man's a king—and free.

Uncle Abner.
Thieves has been robbin' William Tibbitt's ice chest and he went down to the city to buy one of those chest protectors he has seen advertised so much of late.
Some feller cut a hole in the bellows of the pipe organ at the macy house and when old late Tibbs started to pump her up she blew him out the window. There wasn't no wind for the organ, so Rev. Hudnutt made up the deficiency by preaching an hour longer than usual.
Hank Tumms says he knowed he was right all the time. He refused to take his stormhouse down last spring and now he's going to come in handy in a few weeks.
It is a darn wise guy that knows his own wife after she has had her hair fixed downtown at a regular hair parlor.

WHERE IS THE VICTORY?
Another victory, in bold headlines.
Battleship sunk by submerged mines.
World's most ghastly catastrophe—
Where, oh where is the victory?
Does it lie 'neath the waves of the deep North Sea.
Where the mangled bodies lie silently?
Is it in the homes of these dead men?
Where is the victory? I ask again.

Another victory, in the German right!
Antwerp bombarded in the dead of night!
Women and children in terror flee—
Where, oh where is the victory?
Is it in those women, with sorrow in their eyes, whose children whose father is killed?
Is it with those fleeing frantically?
Again I ask, where's the victory?

Another victory, ten thousand dead!
Stricken with shrapnel and hail of lead.
Thousands of homes now in misery—
Where, oh where is the victory?
Is it within the widow's cabin door?
Is it in thoughts of a loved one she'll see no more?
Is it the homeless child at her knee?
Tell me then, where's the victory?

Another victory, vast crowds unaware Killed by bombs from the cloud-screened air.
All this in the name of humanity—
Where, I pray, is the victory?
Is it in the minds of those who bend
Their knees at the side of a dying friend?
Who's been ruthlessly swept to eternity?
Oh where, I ask, is the victory?

Another victory! Ten Russian spies Are backed to the wall with bandaged eyes.
The "Aim! Fire!" comes triumphantly.
But where, oh where, is the victory?
Is it in the hearts of the little squad
Who sent a brother to meet his God, Forced to carry out the barbarous decree?
If not, I ask, where's the victory?

God help the poor children in bloody war's zone!
God help the poor widows, distressed and alone.
When peace triumphs o'er war in the end, who'll require an expert to demonstrate this stove to the people. Talk to Lowell.

Today's Edgerton News
Edgerton, Oct. 21.—Mr. and Mrs.
John Gress departed Tuesday for Pulman, Ill., after a four weeks visit with Mrs. Gress' brother Evan Gress.
Miss Mary Spencer made a trip to Janesville Wednesday in her touring car.
Mrs. Jones of Milwaukee is visiting Mrs. E. M. Hubbel of this city.
G. W. Blanchard and C. L. Cullen are business visitors in Montana this week.
M. Anderson of Chicago was visiting old time friends in this city Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh were Janesville visitors Wednesday.
Miss Mary Ellen Wesendonk was visiting friends in Janesville the first of the week.
Inger Barnes and Helen M. Merrill were Madison visitors Wednesday.
Mrs. Frank Walker departed yesterday for her new home in Kilbourne.
Miss Emma Hanson has just recovered from an attack of measles.
Miss Louise Jensen departed this morning for a three days visit in Chicago with Miss Ethel Jones.
Mrs. D. G. Gillette returned from Payette Wednesday after a few days visit with her parents.

URGES BETTER LAWS TO PROTECT ILLEGITIMATE CHILDREN IN ILLINOIS
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, October 22.—Legislation giving an illegitimate child the right to bear his father's name and full rights of inheritance are recommended by Judge Joseph Uhlir of the Court of Domestic Relations, a tribunal that has attracted attention the world over, in his review of the results of the third year of the court.
"The father of an illegitimate child gets off entirely too light in this state," said Judge Uhlir. "If a man desires a girl and a child is born, he may discharge his obligations by paying $100 the first year and $50 a year thereafter till $550 is paid. Or he may avoid paying money by spending six months in jail. When it has been judicially determined that the defendant is the father of a child born out of wedlock, does it not seem just that the child should get the full benefit of this finding?"

POSITIVELY MASTERS CROUP.
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cuts the thick choking mucus, and clears the phlegm. Opens up the air passages and stops the hoarse cough.
The gasping, straining, tight throat breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. Harold Berge Mass, Mich., writes: "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for colds and it always acts quickly.
No wonder a man in Kewaunee, Wis. miles to the store to get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.
Every year is a friend."

Free.
There ain't no guy kin come along
And tell me I must go to war,
To rectify some fancied wrong,
And not know what I'm fighting for.

There ain't no guy kin allow:
"You leave your children and your wife,
And come and be a target now.
You've got to offer up your life."

SPECIAL OFFERING APOLLO THEATRE SPECIAL OFFERING A BREEZY, BOLLOCKING, GIRLIE GIRL MUSICAL COMEDY
Burgandy Girls
DREYER & DREYER SPECTACULAR NAUTICAL DANCERS. A STRICTLY HIGH CLASS ACT
MACK O'NEIL SCOTTISH COMEDIAN HARRY LAUDER'S DOUBLE TONIGHT AND CONTINUING UNTIL SUNDAY. USUAL PHOTOPLAY PROGRAM.
MATINEES DAILY 10c. EVENINGS 7:30 AND 9:15. ALL SEATS 20c.

COMMENT IS MADE ON GERMAN DISCIPLINE BY FRENCH CORRESPONDENTS.

(Correspondence of The A. P.)
Rome, Oct. 22.—Recognition is given German discipline by Luigi Barzini, war correspondent with the French of the Roman Corriere Della Sera, in a recent article on the fighting about Cambry.
"Along the road of Cambry a story of a combat of man against man was told by the dead," wrote Mr. Barzini. "A troop of Germans who had been left behind to guard the rear had taken cover in the ditch along the road, from where they had repelled to the fire of the enemy."
The Germans offered resistance to the very last—the last dead Frenchman lay meters from the ditch. Then the storm passed over them and killed the last one. Stabbed through and through with the bayonet the German soldiers lay against the embankment in a row. Bent bayonets and broken rifles spoke of the violence of the desperate struggle.
The first in the row was the sergeant who had left part of the small force. It seemed that even in death he still uttered commands. Another group of dead lay about the body of the officer who had been in command. The similarity of expression on the faces of the dead was striking. Only the uniform told the private from the officer. There was a sort of fraternity among them all even in death.
"The dead Germans still had their knapsacks on their backs, were splendidly dressed, and appeared to be ready for parade."

SWINDLERS IN LONDON PREY ON WAR WIDOWS.

(Correspondence of The A. P.)
London, Oct. 22.—London has produced the meanest crowd of swindlers on record since the English troops got into the fighting line in France.
Every day the London papers are filled with appeals from war widows, seeking information as to their fate. Hundreds of officers are not ac-

THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY
Every Thursday
MAJESTIC LYRIC

ALL THIS WEEK GIVEN FREE
WITH THE Monarch
The Stay Satisfactory Range
99 CENTS PER SET
HIGH GRADE ALUMINUM WARE
The Range with the top which does not need blacking, the fire box ventilated at both ends which insures equal oven heat and the triple wall which insures lasting qualities. Be sure and get a cook book Saturday.
TALK TO LOWELL

MYERS THEATRE
8 DAYS, COMMENCING SUNDAY MATINEE, OCT. 25
JACK BESSEY
AND HIS ASSOCIATE PLAYERS.
OPENING PLAY SUNDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT
"THE COST OF LIVING"
THE GREAT PROBLEM OF TODAY.
MONDAY "THE SCHEMERS"
EXTRA—Three feature vaudeville acts and three big moving pictures will be given along with the regular show, making two big shows for one price.
PRICES—Matinee: Children, 10c; Adults, 25c.
Evening: 10c, 20c and 30c; box, 50c.
NOTE: Ladies Free Monday night under the usual conditions.
Seats on sale Saturday, 9 A. M.

counted for who are not known to be dead.
Swindlers have taken advantage of the women distracted by failure to get news of their relatives and are constantly preying on them.
The mother of a young officer who has not been heard from since the battle of Mons was recently approached by a swindler who represented himself as a valet and said he had seen the missing officer in Brussels and expected to return there the next day. The swindler was short of cash through the failure to get a remittance and asked for money which he would promptly return upon his arrival at Brussels. The money was supplied and letters to the missing son were entrusted to the sympathetic courier who never was heard of again.
These men have even represented that they saw wounded officers in certain hospitals near the fighting zone and have delivered fictitious requests for funds to supply delicacies to the injured.

FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS.
You will like their positive action. They have a tonic effect on the bowels, and give a wholesome, thorough cleansing to the entire bowel tract. Stir the liver to healthy activity and keep stomach sweet. Constipation, headache, dull, tired feeling never afflict those who use Foley Cathartic Tablets. Only 25c. Specially comforting to stout persons who enjoy the light and free feeling they give. W. T. Sherer.

MAJESTIC
"Drawn into the Quicksand" is the title of the 16th Episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery," shown tonight. The picture completing the program is well worth coming to see whether you are following the Mystery or not; it is a Wally Van comedy entitled "The Band Leader," and a sure laugh-producer.
Friday's program includes two features, Francis X. Bushman in "The Masked Wrestler," and George Ade's Fable of "The Honeymoon That Tried to Come Back."

MYERS THEATRE
FEATURE VAUDEVILLE
FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND SUNDAY
THE FOUR GAYNORS
American Knockabout Comiques.
FRED & MARY WADDELL
Comedy singing, talking, dancing and club juggling.
LA MARR & LAWRENCE
Comedy singing and talking.
EXTRA FOR FRI-DAY ONLY
The 9th episode of the thrilling sensational photo play serial, "Trey O' Hearts," "As the crow flies." Chicago Herald Weekly: "The best film weekly ever produced."
MATINEE 10c. NIGHT, Children, 10c. Adults 20c.

MYERS THEATRE
8 DAYS, COMMENCING SUNDAY MATINEE, OCT. 25
JACK BESSEY
AND HIS ASSOCIATE PLAYERS.
OPENING PLAY SUNDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT
"THE COST OF LIVING"
THE GREAT PROBLEM OF TODAY.
MONDAY "THE SCHEMERS"
EXTRA—Three feature vaudeville acts and three big moving pictures will be given along with the regular show, making two big shows for one price.
PRICES—Matinee: Children, 10c; Adults, 25c.
Evening: 10c, 20c and 30c; box, 50c.
NOTE: Ladies Free Monday night under the usual conditions.
Seats on sale Saturday, 9 A. M.

The Gift of All GIFTS
Read the announcement in tomorrow night's Gazette. It should be of interest to every home in Janesville and vicinity.
The announcement will be made in a full page advertisement. You can't miss seeing it and you shouldn't miss reading every line of it.

MYERS THEATRE TONIGHT
United Play Co. (Inc.) Present
Gertrude Ritchie
IN A DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT

He fell in Love with His Wife
As presented at the Cort Theatre, Chicago Take Your Life Partner to See the Theatre's Sweetest Story of Marital Love.
PRICES: Evening—First 6 rows orchestra, $1.00; remainder orchestra, 75c; first 2 rows balcony, 75c; remainder balcony, 50c; gallery, 25c.

MYERS THEATRE
FEATURE VAUDEVILLE
FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND SUNDAY
THE FOUR GAYNORS
American Knockabout Comiques.
FRED & MARY WADDELL
Comedy singing, talking, dancing and club juggling.
LA MARR & LAWRENCE
Comedy singing and talking.
EXTRA FOR FRI-DAY ONLY
The 9th episode of the thrilling sensational photo play serial, "Trey O' Hearts," "As the crow flies." Chicago Herald Weekly: "The best film weekly ever produced."
MATINEE 10c. NIGHT, Children, 10c. Adults 20c.

MYERS THEATRE
8 DAYS, COMMENCING SUNDAY MATINEE, OCT. 25
JACK BESSEY
AND HIS ASSOCIATE PLAYERS.
OPENING PLAY SUNDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT
"THE COST OF LIVING"
THE GREAT PROBLEM OF TODAY.
MONDAY "THE SCHEMERS"
EXTRA—Three feature vaudeville acts and three big moving pictures will be given along with the regular show, making two big shows for one price.
PRICES—Matinee: Children, 10c; Adults, 25c.
Evening: 10c, 20c and 30c; box, 50c.
NOTE: Ladies Free Monday night under the usual conditions.
Seats on sale Saturday, 9 A. M.

Rehberg's
Glasgow
There Is A Cause For Our Immense Hat Business.
It hasn't occurred to everyone perhaps, that we actually have more heads than any other house in these parts. We cannot allow our streak of vanity to have a believe either, that it's personal magnetism—nor the prominent location of our store—or attractive interior. True, that all these things when taken as a whole, go to swell the grand total; but facts are facts, and we know, as a great many others know, that the secret of our success has been the combining of variety and style with quality and price—displaying a greater variety, embracing more style and better quality at a lesser price than can be had elsewhere.
The fall models, stiff or soft, $2 to $3.00. Stetsons $3.50 to $5.00.
Amos Rehberg Co.
Janesville's Greatest Clothing and Shoe Store.
Corner Milwaukee and River St.

PRINCESS THEATRE
DOMINO FEATURE
For tonight
"Mildred's Doll"
in which Little Mildred Harris plays the leading role.
O'Flanagan's Luck
A Royal Comedy.
Matinee Daily
Ladies, drop in here while shopping. Our pictures are the newest shown in the city. They are never objectionable. You can rest your body, please your soul and feed your mind here.
ADMISSION 10c.

3 BIG FEATURES NEXT WEEK
Monday—FRANCIS X BUSHMAN in "ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT." 4 reels.
Tuesday—MAURICE COSTELLO in "MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK." 6 reels.
Wednesday—"THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR." A Lubin play in 5 reels.
APOLLO THEATRE

La Marca Cigars
The La Marca 10c Cigar always pleases. Try it tomorrow.
For Friday and Saturday, 5c Straight.
Box of 25.... $1.25
Box of 50.... $2.50
Smith's Pharmacy
The REXALL Store
Kodak and Kodak Supplies
14 West Milwaukee St.

This Dental Office is Doing the Work in This Town

because I have the most up-to-date equipment obtainable and treat you right in every way.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS
(Over Rehberg's.)

HOLD THREE YOUTHS FOR A JURY TRIAL

WHEELLOCK BROTHERS AND JOHNSONS WILL BE TRIED ON OCTOBER 28TH.

ORBAN PLEADS GUILTY

Judge Maxfield Suspends Eighteen Months' Sentence and Lads Left in Custody of Employer.

A plea of not guilty was automatically entered by Attorney E. H. Ryan for Earl and William Wheellock and Raymond "Whitey" Joholske when the trio were examined in the municipal court this morning on the charges of breaking into the Douglas hardware store during the night time. Guarded testimony was introduced by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie, just evidence enough being produced to warrant their being held for trial. At the proceedings this morning the court determined that the boys had been committed and that there was reasonable cause to believe that the three boys were guilty. No attempt was made by the state to prove their guilt other than to have Frank Douglas testify that the guns obtained by Chief Champion were the ones stolen from his store Labor Day morning.

Mr. Douglas was the first witness to be called to the stand and was questioned as to the positive identification of three shotguns by the numbers of the manufacturing company stamped on the weapons. An attempt had been made to destroy the evidence by burning the shotguns, but the telltale numbers on the guns. Chief of Police Champion was the second and last witness to be called to the stand. Attorney Ryan raised objections to the questions of District Attorney Dunwiddie on the confession of the boys following their arrests, but he was overruled by Judge Maxfield. Champion told of the boys being questioned, their admitting the theft and being taken to the county jail. Only three of the shotguns alleged to have been stolen were introduced by the state as evidence. None of the revolvers were exhibited. On this bare evidence the state rested its case and the boys were committed to the county jail. The four boys were brought into court handcuffed and appeared to take the situation anything but seriously. In fact the boys seemed to be laughing and did not seem to bother the Wheellock boys as bad as where they were to obtain a chew of tobacco or a cigarette, the use of which is prohibited at the county jail. The young Joholske lad, attired in a neat blue serge suit, looked out of place before the justice bench with the "bracelets" on his wrists, impressing the crowded court merely as a school boy from the grades. He sat with his head bowed during the hearing and scarcely listened to the testimony that was to decide his fate. William Wheellock still maintained the attitude of indifference while his older brother heard the evidence with keen interest.

When taken to the county jail the youths posed for a photograph and seemed to enjoy being in the spotlight of publicity. At Orban, the fourth youth arrested for robbery of a shotgun in Milton over two years ago, had his sentence of eighteen months in the Green Bay reformatory suspended by Judge Maxfield. Orban, through his attorney, George G. Sutherland, pleaded guilty and made no attempt to cover his guilt.

A. A. Fink, the employer of Orban, declared that the youth's arrest was a surprise and even a shock to him, as Orban had been employed in the Rock River Machine Company for four years and was earning an excellent salary. Mr. Fink said Orban had been trusted and never had been found faulty or in any way created a mistrust of the firm. It appears that the lad had been studying to be a draftsman and was making good. Sutherland asked that the court take into consideration the fact that Orban furnished the main support of the family and that the Milton robbery was his only offense.

Bad company was blamed by the boy for his yielding to steal the gun at which time "his cousin" and he broke into the store and took the shotgun. He was questioned regarding a jewelry theft at the village, but denied any connection with this robbery. Judge Maxfield pronounced sentence, which was suspended, and the convicted boy and the custody of the father was explained that if the father was committed in the future, the eighteen months' sentence would be still binding on him until the year and a half is served out in charge of Mr. Fink. The sentence was received with general satisfaction, as it affords the youth an opportunity to make good.

OBITUARY

William Samuel Spaulding.
Funeral rites for William Samuel Spaulding were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, at the home of George Edwin Parise officiating. The remains were placed in Oak Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Linford Lawrence, Vern Lowe, J. F. Carle, Harry Clayton, Link and Snyder.

Mr. Spaulding was born in 1836 at Rio, Columbia County, Wisconsin. In 1870 he was married to Miss Hannah A. Himes. In 1884 Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding took up their residence at Janesville. Mr. Spaulding has been a sufferer for the past two years. Nevertheless, though suffering greatly during those months not a word of complaint escaped him. He passed away on Tuesday, October 19.

When but a young man he became identified with the work of the Baptist church. In the recent years of his life he had given freely of his time and energy to the work of the Salvation Army, having been promoted to Major. Sergeant Major. He is survived by three sisters and many other relatives.

Elias Abbot.
Elias Abbot, age 87 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. G. Gleiter, 826 South Main street, at twelve-thirty o'clock this noon of afflictions due to advanced age. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock from the Gleiter home. Mr. Abbot was a genial old gentleman, who despite his advanced years, made many friends who join his immediate family in mourning his loss.

Regular meeting of Equitable Fraternal Union this evening at Calcedonia hall. A large attendance is desired, as new members will be taken in.

PERSONAL MENTION

Judge J. B. Clarke of Beloit, was in Janesville yesterday. John A. Paul of Milton Junction was in Janesville Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell of Le Centre, Iowa, announce the arrival of a baby girl, who came to their home on Monday. Mrs. Mitchell will be remembered as Miss Elma Spager, formerly of this city. The Janesville League will meet Friday at 2:30 at the public library.

Will McNeil is in Milwaukee on business. Harry Ryan went to Edgerton this morning. Charles Olsen of Wausau who has been transacting business and visiting friends here for the past several days, returned this morning to his home.

Rev. Henry Willmann is spending today at Broadhead. Grant Fisher is transacting business at Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hull of Milton announce the arrival of a son, born this morning. Mrs. Hull will be remembered as Miss Kathryn Thiele, daughter of Fred and Mrs. W. T. Thiele of this city.

Mrs. Archie Reid, St. Lawrence avenue, will entertain the Athena club on Friday afternoon. A literary program will be given in the afternoon and a tea served at five o'clock. John C. Broderick is visiting relatives in this city this week, from Broadhead.

William Croak and family left yesterday for Goldred, Nebraska, where they expect to spend some time. D. L. Hood of Madison, was a Janesville visitor today. Mrs. Robert Boyd of South Jackson street, has returned home after a visit with friends in Beloit.

H. O. Brown, of Madison, is a business caller in this city today. Edward T. Ciofephos, of Beloit, spent Wednesday in Janesville. Adam Fleck and John Kessel, of Broadhead, spent Wednesday in Janesville.

Mrs. J. P. Baker and Mrs. H. L. McNamara were Beloit visitors today. Mrs. Clarence Johnson, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson of Madison, Wis., for a visit of several days. C. J. Douthat, of Milwaukee, was transacting business in this city today.

Mrs. Lloyd Ashton, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Charlton, of High street, returned to her home in Chicago yesterday. Arthur Granger and Fred Baker were Milwaukee visitors on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. E. J. Dunwiddie of 441 Madison street, entertained the reading circle this afternoon. Light refreshments were served after the program. Mrs. August Ingersoll of Jackson street, left this morning for an extended visit with relatives and friends in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Solon D. Rider of South Bend, Indiana, is the guest of her sister, Miss Elizabeth Schickler. Mrs. John W. Palmer and children were Chicago visitors on Tuesday, for the day.

Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy and Miss Julia Lovejoy have returned after spending several days in Chicago. The auction bridge club met this afternoon with Mrs. O. E. O'Brien of the Charlton flats.

Mrs. John Shortney of South Main street is entertaining this week, Mrs. R. C. Veomans of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peterson were Rockford visitors on Wednesday. The visiting club met with Mrs. Norman Darby on Wednesday. A luncheon was served at one o'clock.

Bernard Palmer and daughter, Anna, of Moscow, Idaho, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer of Court street. Mrs. C. A. White, who has just returned from a six months' trip in Europe, is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Sherer of 233 Madison street. Mrs. White will attend the Blackman-Palmer wedding which will take place on Saturday, Oct. 24th.

Mrs. Louis Anderson of Court street, was taken quite ill Tuesday. She was removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nolze, yesterday. The doctors have pronounced it an attack of appendicitis. Mrs. Andrew Kirk, Anna Hanchett and George Barker, spent the day on Wednesday, at the Ford cottage up the river.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffris entertained their birthday club at their home, St. Lawrence avenue, on Wednesday. A dinner was served at 7 o'clock and auction bridge played in the evening.

Mrs. John Waldo and daughter, of Chicago, are the guests of Mrs. Charles Putnam for several days. Daniel Finnene of Evansville, spent the day in Janesville on business, on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Mitchell of Milton Junction, was a visitor in this city yesterday. Mrs. E. P. Foster of Iowa, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. St. John of South Jackson street. Michael Birmingham, who has been ill for the past two weeks at Mercy hospital, returned to his home Wednesday afternoon. He is slowly convalescing.

Mrs. Stanley Dunwiddie is visiting friends in Madison.

Father Pierce of Sharon was in Janesville on business.

H. Mollenhapp of Clinton spent the day in this city on business.

The Hot Blast Fire Box in the Monarch Malleable Range passes all over the fire, thus causing perfect combustion. See the range in operation. Talk to Lowell.

MRS. WILLIAM TAYLOR ELECTED PRESIDENT OF M. E. CIRCLE NUMBER 1
Mrs. William Taylor was chosen president of Circle No. 1 of the Central Methodist Episcopal church at a meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Boomer, on South Main street. Other officers chosen are as follows: Vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Boomer; Secretary, Mrs. Cox; treasurer, Mrs. C. F. Rice. A delectable luncheon was served. A successful and prosperous year is looked forward to by the members.

HUGH WAGNER DENIES GRIFFIN WOMAN EVER WAS MARRIED TO HIM
Hugh Wagner asks the Gazette to make a formal denial that Mabel Griffin, who alleged she lost a pocket book containing a sum of money, was ever married to him. The Griffin woman assured the court and police officials that she was married to Hugh Wagner. Mr. Wagner's wife, but Mr. Wagner's denial should be given credence as the authorities are certain she misrepresented facts. It was announced last evening that she claimed to be Wagner's wife in the authorities.

Notice: Gen. John F. Reynolds Circle No. 41 Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet in regular session Friday evening Oct. 23 at Calcedonia Hall. Secy. Sue Popple.

LOSES RIGHT ARM UNDER OWN ENGINE IN FALL FROM CAB

Well Known Engineer, Recently Promoted to Engineer, in Peculiar and Painful Accident.

James Davies, 122 South High street, a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway extra engineer, was injured at five o'clock last evening, a few feet north of the Five Points, when he was jarred from his engine and in falling struck a switch which thrust his right arm and horribly mangled his shoulder. His condition, shortly after eight o'clock last evening, was considered serious, but a rally during the night gave him some hope of saving the man's life.

Davies' statement to the attending surgeons is that, feeling his engine starting or running back, he got down off his seat and leaned out the gangway to see if the engine had left the rails. The engine struck a switch and he was thrown from the engine and he made a grab at the side of the tank but could not secure a hold. He fell and struck the switch standard and rolled over on his back, his arm resting upon one. The entire pilot passed over the member. Engineer Edward Snively, whom Davies was riding for on the trip, saw his fall and stopped his train quickly. He already having had it well under control as both the engineer and fireman thought when they were passing the rough spot that the engine had left the rails.

Davies' arm from the wrist to the shoulder had been crushed. So bad was the member mangled that amputation consisted only of cutting with a shears, the little muscle and flesh that connected it with the shoulder. A portion of the arm, about two inches in length, is not lost. The shoulder is crushed somewhat and may give considerable trouble.

Railroad men have been expecting a serious accident of the sort, but the injured man, although he never thought it would occur like the one last evening. According to many, the switch which Davies hit is not in the best of condition. It is said to be near the track and the clearance distance is not enough. Locally, it is alleged, attempts have been made to have the standard raised in position, but only the result, it is said, have been attained.

Davies has a wife and one child, three years of age. The injured man was set up to the position of engineer. He has a friend among every local railroad man and they were shocked last night to hear of his excruciating injury.

When you think of Insurance think of C. P. Beers, Adv.

METHODIST CHURCH CIRCLE ENJOYS A SURPRISE PARTY

Members of Circle No. 3 of the Carle Mt. E. church enjoyed a surprise party in honor of Mrs. J. F. Ketchum, their secretary, Wednesday afternoon at her home on Locust street. A delicious picnic supper was served at six o'clock.

LOCAL BRIEF ITEMS.

Prof. Geo. L. Hatch's children's dancing class opens Saturday afternoon, Oct. 24, 3 to 5 P. M. Terpsichorean.

Rockford Couple: A marriage license was issued today to Carl F. Olson and Esther Olson, both of Rockford. The meeting of Circle No. 16 which was to be held with Mrs. F. H. Porter on Friday of this week, has been postponed one week. Mrs. Howard, President.

No blacking to do on a Monarch Malleable Range. It is absolutely non-corrosive. Talk to Lowell.

The Summer Club of Home Economics will hold a special meeting Saturday, October 24, at 3 o'clock at Library Hall. A vote in new members is also to learn the pleasure of the members in regard to a cook book, for the benefit of the fresh-air children. This book is to be for sale before Christmas.

By order of the president.

Take Out License: Marriage licenses have been issued to the following: Charles W. Schultz of Janesville, and Birdie Seiber, daughter of Plymouth; Andrew R. Grandall and Nettie L. Grandall, both of the village of Milton.

Horse Takes Fright: A colt driven by T. Eyer of the town of La Prairie, took fright at a street car at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets this afternoon and became unmanageable. He nearly tipped over the load of potatoes which he was hauling.

Mason and Dixon's Line. For a long time there was a bitter dispute between Pennsylvania and Maryland as to the boundary line between them. The dispute was settled by two surveyors, Mason and Dixon, who, in 1763-7, ran the line as it now is between the two states. "Mason and Dixon's Line"—the southern boundary of Pennsylvania—afterward became famous as the division between freedom and slavery.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

National Geographic Society War Primer,
ENGHEIN—A town of south central Belgium, seventeen miles south-east of Brussels and the same distance north of Mons, with a population of about 6,000. It is on the line from Ghent to Charleroi. Many lace, linen and cotton industries are located there. The ancestral chateau of the Ducs d'Enghein, destroyed during the French revolution, was located in the fine old park outside the town. The great Conde gained the right to the town of Enghein among his other titles through a victory near this place.

THIELT—An ancient town of West Flanders, Belgium, at the foot of an eminence, situated on the left bank of the Scheldt, fifteen miles east of south of Bruges. The town has considerable manufactures of linen and lace, and was formerly a busy cloth-making place. Soap glue, leather and hats are also among its outputs. In the surrounding districts are many bleach-works. Thielt's population of about 11,000 has varied in size but little in many years.

SAS VAN GHENT—A fortified town of Holland, twelve miles north of Ghent and twenty-five miles east of Bruges, near the left bank of the Brackman, a branch of the Western Scheldt, near the Dutch-German border on the line from Ghent and it is here that the locks of the canal connecting Ghent with the sea, by way of the Western Scheldt, are situated. The town was founded by the Spaniards in 1570 and the Duke of Parma strengthened it in 1583. The Dutch captured the place in 1644 and the

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH BENEATH CAR

Town of La Prairie Farmer Missed Death by Hair's Breadth in Malign Street Accident.

Gustav Byer, a La Prairie farmer, had a narrow escape from death at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets at two o'clock this afternoon when his team, becoming frightened by both an over-turned car and city street car, backed, overturned the heavy farm wagon and threw Byer almost under the former car.

The interurban motorcar, J. W. Stevens, was just leaving the hotel corner and was proceeding north on Main street to the freight house "Y" to turn his car. Byers, with a spirited black team, was a large load of potatoes, was coming up Main street. As the interurban car passed the corner, a city car came from Milwaukee street. Byer's horses, frightened by the first car, were more terrified by the second and began to back. They reached such an angle to the wagon body that this was heavy upward and against the interurban car. Byer was first in danger of being crushed between the load and the car and later in danger of being crushed by the heavy wheels as he fell directly under the car. Passengers in the motorcar shouted to the motorman, who was running slowly and he immediately stopped. A. S. Richards was the interurban conductor. Byer's potatoes covered the street and a portion of his wagon was broken, but he was slightly injured.

BOSTON TO HAVE NEW $3,000,000 HOTEL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Boston, October 22.—Further announcements are expected here shortly setting forth in detail the plans for a new hotel that will cost more than $3,000,000 and will house a death knell of the famous old Boston theater which for years has been a landmark of downtown Boston.

It has already been announced that negotiations are being completed for the purchase and lease of several desirable lots on Washington, Tremont and Mason streets, including the Boston Theater property.

Business interests are being taken in the proposed new hotel, not only because it will mean the elimination of one of the oldest playhouses in the country, but, if present plans are carried out, it will be the largest hotel in the city, with three main thoroughfares and will furnish a great, modern hotel with moderate priced rooms with special accommodations, including sample rooms, for traveling salesmen.

The land for the enterprise will cost about $2,000,000. The building will have 700 rooms, each with a bath. The two main parts of the building will be separated by Mason street, with a tunnel connecting, two general dining rooms will seat a thousand people and the rathskeller will accommodate as many more. There will be banquet halls, private dining rooms, library, reading and billiard rooms. The structure as planned will be of gray brick and glazed terra cotta. With ten floors the building will go up to the city limit of 125 feet, with round towers extending 25 feet higher. The architecture will be similar to that of the Hotel McAlpin in New York.

Regular meeting of Triumph Camp No. 4084 Thursday evening, Oct. 22. A full attendance is desired, especially the degree staff. Business of importance to come before the meeting. By request of the Oracle.

SAYS U. S. A. IS NOT PREPARED FOR WAR

Rep. Gardner. Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts has startled the country with his statements to the effect that the United States is utterly unprepared for war.

"The belief held by the country that we can create an army and navy when the need arises is wrong from beginning to end," says Gardner. "You can't improvise a battleship or a submarine or a torpedo or a sailor after war breaks out."

CONWAY & DAWSON
PLENTY OF CHOICE FRESH FISH FOR FRIDAY
DRESSED PERCH BULLHEADS. TROUT. PIKE. Complete line of smoked and salt fish. Select Oysters, qt. 45c. Carload of very choice boxed Jonathan Apples arrived today. Very reasonable. Buy them by the box.

CONWAY & DAWSON
Bell phone 2 and 3. New phone 20 and 27.

MAKES BITTER AND SENSELESS TRIADE UPON CATHOLICISM AT MEETING HELD LAST EVENING
One of the bitterest, most disgraceful and disreputable attacks upon the Catholic church and its doctrines ever heard in Janesville was made last evening by a speaker whom it is alleged was a man named Brandon of Monroe, at West Side Odd Fellows hall. Brandon waxed warm to his subject and made statements that even the bravest of vile story tellers would hesitate to recount within closed doors. Advertised as a meeting of the Knights of Luther, some two hundred and fifty persons listened to the foul abuse of men and doctrines, evidently aimed at candidates in the present campaign whose religious beliefs are Catholic. The meeting was along the lines of the old A. P. A. movement which died a natural death some twenty years ago.

PLAN FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR PAUL AMES AND WIFE
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Evansville, Oct. 22.—Members of the local lodges of Knights of Pythias and the Pythian sisters have arranged a farewell reception for tomorrow evening at Castle hall, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ames. Mr. and Mrs. Ames will leave on Sunday for Brandon, Manitoba, where they will make their future home.

THE GIFT OF ALL GIFTS
Many people have wondered what form of Gift this "Gift of All Gifts" would take. One more little day and they shall know. Tomorrow night's Gazette will contain a full page advertisement telling all about it.

Baked Beans and Brown Bread
Home made, baked just as you like them. Delicious Croquettes. All home made in our own kitchen. Hot Doughnuts every day from 4 to 6 o'clock.

JONES' Delicatessen Shop
37 So. Main Street. New red 1123—Phone—Old 683.

MEAT MARKET
C. A. Rosenberg, formerly at the Fair Store, has opened a Meat Market in Nolan Bros. & Co.'s Grocery Store. Give me your order when you want first class Meats and prompt service.

C. S. ROSENBERG
25 South River St.

Sliced Halibut
Very popular, no waste, no bother. Lake Superior Whitefish for baking. Dressed Yellow Pike. No. 1 Lake Trout. Sliced Fresh Salmon. Breakfast Mackerel, 25c each. Boned Genuine Cod, 22c Box. Smoked Boned Herring, 20c lb. JONATHAN APPLES. A few boxes exceptionally fine, deep red Jonathans for table use. Each apple wrapped. $1.75 Box. Leave your order now for winter apples, any variety.

Dedrick Bros.
Baldwin Apples, peck 4.35c. Quinces, lb. ....7c. Tokay Grapes, lb. ....10c. Jonathan eating apples, lb. ....5c. Can Crisco .... 25c and 50c. 3 cans sauer kraut ....25c. Dinner Bell Salmon ....20c. 3 packages macaroni ....25c. Cream cheese, lb. ....20c. 3 cans Rex beans ....25c. 10-lb. sack table salt ....15c. 3 White House beans ....25c. 3 packages Purity Oats, 25c. BUMGARDNER BROS. Deliveries made to any part of city. Both phones.

Build Up For Your Own Success

And prosperity. Some people earn a great deal and save nothing—and others earn little and save much.

Getting along in the world is the big problem that everybody tries to solve, and its solution is reached by those who have money, and that money earning interest for them.

Start your Savings Account with the

The First National Bank

Established 1855.

F. R. LITTLEMAN, M.D.

Practice limited to Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. Suit 322 and 323 Hayes Block. Both Phones.

A LARGE ASSORTMENT Wallace Nutting Handcolored Platinums JUST RECEIVED.

Beautiful landscapes from England, France, Germany and Spain. In our window.

CARL W. DIEHLS

THE ART STORE
26 W. Milw. St.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR Delicious Cream Cheese And Pimento Cream Cheese

It can't be beat. Just received a fresh lot.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—Largest size Favorite law heater, $35. Used one season. Old phone 544. New phone 714 black. 16-10-22-31.

Box Social at the Malloy District. The box social, which was to have been given at the Malloy district school house last Friday evening, was postponed on account of the rain but will be given Friday evening, Oct. 23. A good program including a debate on Union Suffrage, will be given. Also speaking and singing by good talent. Everybody invited.

MARY COOPER, Teacher.

GOOPS

By BELETT BURGESS

Rosina Lake
When you divide the fruit or cake Do you not like Rosina Lake. And take the biggest and the best. And give your little friend the rest? She is a Goop! I hope you'll say You give the biggest piece away!

Don't Be A Goop!

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"JACK is so foolish," said a lady across-the-way to another neighbor last spring. "What do you suppose he has done now? He's bought a new automobile. He really believes that they are practical and that he will have no more punctures."

"Of course not!" said the first speaker. "Don't you suppose that if there were really puncture-proof tires everybody would have them?"

"I suppose so," said her neighbor.

Now I don't know anything about the merits of puncture-proof tires. But I do not believe that argument of the lady across-the-way used is a final one, by any means, even though it may be a popular one.

RUTH CAMERON

Most of us subscribe to the old adage, "Be not the first by which the new is tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside." Hearing of something new and novel, designed to add to our comfort, efficiency or peace of mind, we are inclined to discount its claims. "If it were as good as they say, everybody would use it," and so we wait and see.

It is human nature, I suppose, to eye askance anything better than what we are accustomed to. It is that sense of distrust that one New York banker understood when he told another that if he should try to sell fifty-five pieces for fifteen cents on any street corner, there would be no buyers.

One of my friends recently heard of a house for sale. The neighborhood was unquestionably good, the house itself seemed well built and well planned. The seller told her friend of her prospective purchase. "Don't buy it," said the latter. "It can't be such a bargain as it seems, or else someone would have bought it. There must be something wrong about it."

My friend slowly and cautiously when the value seems too good to be true. There is always a strong chance that there may be something wrong, but to declare when every other point has been covered that a thing really can't be a bargain because it seems one, is to forever bar the chance of buying at an advantage.

Scepticism has its uses, but it also has abuses. When we persuade ourselves that if a thing is good it is too good to be true, too good for us, we get caught in a vicious treadmill of mediocrity.

For him who has an open mind and who is willing to judge not by axioms and prejudices, but by the reality, the best things of life are waiting.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson. We are two chums, thirteen and fifteen years of age.

- (1) Are we too young to have boy friends?
- (2) Here awhile back one of us was out walking with a boy who my chum likes very much, and so she wanted to see if he liked her very much. A few nights after that he was out of town and she was with another boy. At this he got mad and said he would not speak to her and she dropped him a little. Not a day ago he asked her to go with this one boy. He wrote back and told her that he would be a friend to her. She would never go with this one boy. Do you think he ought to have got mad, and did she do right by going with this other boy?
- (3) Should a boy wear a girl's ring, and should a girl wear boy's ring? Why?
- (4) Is it wrong for a boy to take hold of a girl's arm when out walking?
- (5) What side of the street should a boy walk on?
- (6) How late should we stay out at night? One night I was out until 11.
- (7) Should a girl accept a picture from her boy friend?
- (8) How can you keep your finger nails and hands white?
- (9) We are going to get up a social club. What would be a nice name for it?

RUBEN AND TUBY.

(1) Not too young to have boy friends, but too young to go out in company.

(2) Nothing can be worse than for children of thirteen and fifteen to pair off and get silly notions in their heads. If only boys and girls would be sensible and "hang out" in a jolly crowd meeting at the different homes, with the mothers to chaperone them. It is perfect nonsense to talk of one boy getting mad because a girl spoke or walked with another boy. Why shouldn't she, and what reason had she to ask his forgiveness when he had been too rude to speak? Put such silliness out of your heads. You can never grow up sane, sensible women if all your early teens are spent thinking of nothing but boys.

(3) A girl should wear no ring belonging to a boy until he gives her an engagement ring.

(4) It is very customary and there is no harm in it.

(5) The girl should walk on the inside of the walk.

(6) Girls should not be out alone or with boys in the evening at all at your age. Girls who stay out till such late hours will very soon cease to be respected. Do not do it, my dears. You are young. Be advised by one who knows what she is talking about.

(7) If you are very good friends there is no harm in exchanging pictures, but I should not make it a common thing to give my picture to boys.

(8) Lemon and glycerine rubbed on the hands before going to bed will whiten them. Draw on an old pair of kid gloves to sleep in. It softens the hands.

(9) The Jolly Good Time Club or The Good Comrade Club would be good names.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Please give me particular for serving a buffet supper.

(2) How should I write Halloween invitations?

(3) Will velvet corduroy suits be in style this winter?

(4) What is the latest style of hair dressing for a girl of nineteen?

(5) Yes.

(6) Buffet Supper for Halloween: Gingerbread, apples, pumpkin pie and cider would be appropriate. Make it very informal. Use paper napkins decorated with Halloween designs. Toasting apples and marshmallows, roasting nuts and popping corn add greatly to the pleasure.

(7) On Halloween at eight o'clock. Thrive, please, upon the portal knock.

(8) The door will open and you shall see. The awful shapes of things to be.

(9) At present the French twist shines most favorably, though any becoming style is worn.

ing style is worn. down the fronts, to make it look new, and you have a coat of the same color and date. Trimming goods, if narrow, one yard, if wide one-half yard, $1.50; lining for cuffs, one yard, 25c; thread, 10c; pattern, 15c; stiffening, one yard, 15c; buttons (three), 30c; total, $4.45.

Total for all three, $4.19.

THE TABLE.

Lemon Sauce.—One cup of sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch, one lemon (juice and grated part of skin), one egg, one level tablespoon butter. Mix ingredients until smooth, then pour on two cups boiling water; stir and put on fire, stirring until thick. This makes an inexpensive dessert. Whipped cream may be used with this if desired.

English Dinner Pie.—Take a deep pie tin, rub butter on sides and bottom. Sprinkle sugar on bottom. Now fill with one cup flour and one tablespoon butter and large, a little salt. Now cut shortening into the flour and mix with water. Mix water and salt and stand on ice thirty minutes. When ready for the table take a large dinner plate and turn the pie upside down so the apples are on top and the top crust at bottom of plate. Bake not too fast at first. Serve warm. Use on top powdered sugar and cinnamon mixed.

German Coffee Cake.—Sift together three cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons sugar, two scant teaspoons baking powder. Rub in two heaping tablespoons butter. Beat two eggs, add two-thirds cup milk, stir into dry mixture, adding more milk if necessary, mix to very stiff batter. Spread two-thirds inch thick in well-buttered shallow pan. Mix together two tablespoons flour, four tablespoons granulated sugar, one-half teaspoon baking powder. Rub in two tablespoons butter until it is crumbly. Spread it thickly over top of dough. Bake about one-half hour in moderate oven.

Household Hints.

FOR THE HOME SEAMSTRESS.

A very economical outfit can be made from your old garments and still be up to date.

The Dress.—Take your old spring suit (which will be of date next year), remove ruffles or short tunic from skirt, and rip the short jacket. Sponge and press material. Use bottom of skirt as it was. Get one and one-half yards of contrasting goods and make a long tunic and sleeves, using the old goods for the waist. Buy a vest and collar for 50 cents for the waist and you have a new dress. Get wide goods for a yard of goods, $1.50; vest, 50c; thread, 10c; pattern, 15c; total, $2.25.

The Hat.—Take the crown of last winter's hat. Get a yard of wire (black or white) to match. Make a round out of wire to set crown on, then take wire and make rim about three inches wide, bringing it in and out to form the rim. Take one and one-quarter yards lace three and one-half inches wide and cover the wire with lace, catching the lace to the sides of the wire. Make a cord of old velvet for around the band and get a stick-up and you have a hat at small cost. Lace, one and one-quarter yards, 25c; wire, two rolls, 5c; stick-up, 10c; total, 40c.

The Coat.—If you have a long winter coat out of style, get one of the late patterns of short coats. Rip and press the coat. Take the bottom of old coat and cut the cloth is not worth so much at the bottom. Bind seams nicely. Get a yard of trimming goods for collar and cuffs and a yard of velvet to line them; use stiffening between the lining and goods; also Blanket Free—The new Rumford Home Recipes Book, including Flour and Cakes, Cakes, RUMFORD COMPANY, Providence, R. I.

The Wife's Money

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

When Abram Gaston repeated the marriage service and came to the expression, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow," it simply meant to him that whatever he owned ever belonged to Caroline Norton. He was henceforth his, to use as he saw fit. He early put his belief in this to the entire astonishment of the blue-eyed, eighteen-year-old girl who had become his wife.

She had a beautiful pair of blue eyes and a sweet smile, and she was given her by her mother for a wedding present. The mother had spun the wool and the father had woven the cloth, and she was justly proud of the fine even texture. Abram showed his appreciation of the superior workmanship by taking the blankets, having them dyed and made up into a suit of clothes for himself. Nor did the timid girl dare voice her distress over her loss. Abram was twice her age and she had seen exhibitions of his terrible temper that made any resistance to him impossible.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by could muster. Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal. He believed himself the supreme head of the house and regarded his wife as a dependent whose sole duty was obedience to his arbitrary commands. He came and went as he pleased, but did not allow her to go to town without permission. The fact that he was a brilliant and successful man came was no reason, he thought, for spending money and poor little Caroline was reduced to despair. She grew accustomed to slivering while her lord and master occupied the only warm place in the house directly in front of the small Franklin stove. She early learned to buy calico for two dresses alike. It cut the number of disagreeable scenes in two.

The occasions of his infrequent absences were opportunities of rare privilege, for then she could clean house, wash out paint and carpets in such useless ways. Or she would sew on material she had managed to buy with the secret sale of eggs or fruit.

When her boys were small he had brought home a twelve-year-old girl to help with the housework. Keeping her was cheaper than paying a hired girl. The girl was an orphan and became one of the family. She was a bright mind and was so full of pluck and resource that she was a great comfort to the lonely woman and she helped her out of many difficulties.

One day early in the summer her husband had taken himself off. No sooner was he hidden from view by a head in the road than Mary came flying in from the garden. "Oh," she cried, "the potatoes are ready to dig, and I heard the boys say new potatoes were very high in town. Let's take in four or five bushels and get some things we need at the store."

"Why, child, he would see where you had dug them; that would never do," answered Mrs. Gaston.

"I tried it yesterday. I dug two or three potatoes from a hill and put back the dirt so he never knew it. Out of the whole patch we could get several bushels and not a potato top would be touched. May we?" cried the girl eagerly.

"Certainly, if you can manage it, and there are currants to pick and we have some eggs saved up besides those he took with him this morning."

But the excited girl had bounded away and was beckoning to a half-grown boy in the pasture. He came running to the garden and together they worked with all the speed they could muster.

Every minute was precious, for the girl had planned getting and making two dresses before the master's return.

When George came back from town he joined the others and by noon the three had the potatoes loaded in the spring wagon. After the hired man had returned to the field the dishes were stacked and the woman and girl started for town. They had besides the five bushels of potatoes, a crate of currants, five dozen eggs and six young roosters that were so tame the boys could pick them up at any time.

After selling the produce they bought two dresses. Mary's was white, and Mrs. Gaston bought a soft brown cashmere for winter wear.

So busy were their fingers that at the end of the week the white dress was finished and Mrs. Gaston's was nearly done, when a team stopped in front of the house and the loud voice Mary knew so well said, "Thank you! Good-bye."

She hurried every trace of the dress into the closet and sat demurely sewing with the lining on her lap when Mr. Gaston entered.

"Where's my hat?" he asked sharply. "Skimming milk in the cellar," she replied.

"What you sewing?" He was bending over her chair. She reached out the coarse brown lining. He rubbed it between his thumb and finger.

"Where'd you get it?" he queried. "She took some eggs into town," answered Mary.

"Humph, the hens must be laying," he snapped, and started for the cellar to inquire into the number of eggs sold.

When the mother learned of the fate of the blankets she realized what she had done in urging this marriage on the reluctant girl, because Abram was the richest man in the county.

Abram Gaston's idea of the marital relation was patriarchal.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Dancing Seems to Be the Only Thing on Father's Mind—

BY F. LEIPZIGER

The Last Shot

By FREDERICK PALMER

(Copyright, 1914, by Charles Scribner's Sons)

"Yes, the general of still more killing," she cried in indignation. "Why have you gone on with the slaughter? I did not help you for this. Why?"

No reply came. She poured out more questions, and still no reply. She pressed the button and tried again, but she might as well have been talking over a dead wire.

One man alone against the tide—rallying the man who has seen a tide rise at his orders now finding all its sweep against him—Westerling, accustomed to have millions of men move at his command, found himself, one man out of the millions, still and helpless while they moved of their own impulses.

As news of positions lost came in, he could only grimly repeat, "Hold! Tell them to hold!" fruitlessly, like adoration to the wind to cease blowing. The bell of the long distance kept ringing unheeded, until at last his aide came to say that the premier must speak either to him or to the vice-chief. Westerling staggered to his feet and with lurching steps went into the closet. There he sank down on the telephone mouthpiece. Again the bell rang. Clenching his hands in a rocking effort, he was able to stiffen his spine once more as he took down the receiver. To admit defeat to the premier—no, he was not ready for that yet.

"The truth is out!" said the premier without any break in his voice and with the fatalism of one who never allows himself to blink a fact. "Telegraphers at the front who got out of touch with the staff were still in touch with the capital. Once the reports began to come, they poured in—decimation of the attacking column, panic and retreat in other portions of the line—chaos!"

"It's a lie!" Westerling declared vehemently. "The news has reached the press," the premier proceeded. "Editorials are already in the streets."

"What! Where is your censorship?" gasped Westerling. "It is helpless, a straw protecting against a current," the premier replied. "A censorship goes back to physical force, as every law does in the end—to the police and the army; and all these days, finally to public opinion. After weeks of secrecy, of reported successes, when nobody really knew what was happening, this sudden disillusioning announcement of the truth has sent the public mad."

"It is your business to control the public," complained Westerling. "With what, now? With a speech or a bluff? As well could you stop the retreat with your naked hands. My business to control the public, yes, but unless you win victories, I gave up the soldiers. We have nothing but peace here, and I tell you that the public in a mob rage—the whole public, bankers and business and professional men included. I have just ordered the stock exchange and all banks closed."

"There's a cure for mobs!" cried Westerling. "Let the police fire a few volleys and they'll behave."

"Would that stop the retreat of the army? We must sue for peace."

"Sue for peace! Sue for peace when we have five millions against their three!"

"for you and for me!" said the premier when he spoke again. His life had been a gamble and the gamble had turned against him in playing for a great prize. There was an admirable stoicism in the way he announced the news he had received from the local call: "The chief of police calls me up to say that the uprising is too vast for him to hold. There isn't any mutiny, but his men simply have become a part of public opinion. A mob of women and children is starting for the palace to ask me what I have done with their husbands, brothers, sons, and fathers. They won't have to break in to find me. I'm very tired. I'm ready. I shall face them from the balcony. Yes, Westerling, you and I have achieved a place in history, and they're far more bitter toward you than me. However, you don't have to come back. No, I don't have to go back! No, I was not to go back if I failed!" said Westerling dizzily.

In the inner room, whose opening door gave glimpses of Lanstron and the division chiefs, a magic of secret council which the juniors could not quite understand had wrought the wonder. Lanstron had not forgotten the dead. He could see them; he could see everything that happened. Had not Partow said to him: "Don't just read reports. Visualize men and events. Be the artillery, be the infantry, be the wounded—live and think in their places. In this way only can you really know your work!"

His elation when he saw his plans going right was that of the instrument of Partow's training and Marta's service. He pressed the hands of the men around him; his voice caught in his gratitude and his breaths were very short at times, like those of a spent, happy runner at the goal. Feeding on victory and growing greedy of more, his division chiefs were discussing how to press the war till the Grays sued for peace; and he was silent in the midst of their talk, which was interrupted by the ringing of the tunnel telephone. When he came out of his bedroom, Lanstron's distress was so evident that those who were seated arose and the others drew near in inquiry and sympathy. It seemed to them that the chief of staff, the head of the machine who had left the room had returned an individual.

"The connection was broken while we were speaking!" he said blankly.

An Insulated Telephone Wire at the Bottom of a Crater.

An Insulated Telephone Wire at the Bottom of a Crater.

"That means it must have been cut by the enemy—that the enemy knows of its existence!"

"Perhaps not. Perhaps an accident—a chance shot," said the vice-chief. "No, I'm sure not," Lanstron replied. "I am sure that it was cut deliberately and not by her."

"The 33d Regiment is going forward in that direction—the same regiment that defended the house—and it can't go any faster that it is going," the vice-chief continued, rather incoherently. He and the others no less felt the news as a personal blow. Though absent in person, Marta had become in spirit an intimate of their hopes and councils.

"She is helpless—in their power!" Lanstron said. "There is no telling what they might do to her in the rage of their discovery. I must go to her! I am going to the front!"

A young officer of the Grays who was with the signal-corps section, trying to keep a brigade headquarters in touch with the staff during the retreat, two or three miles from the Galland house, had seen what looked like an insulated telephone wire at the bottom of a crater in the earth made by the explosion of a heavy shell. The instructions to all subordinates from the chief of intelligence to look for the source of the leak in information to the Browns made him quick to see a clue in anything unusual. He jumped down into the crater and not only found his pains rewarded, but that the wire was intact and ran underground in either direction. Who had laid it? Not the Grays. Why was it there? He called for one of his men to bring a buzzer, and it was the work of little more than a minute to cut the wire and make an attachment. Then he heard a woman's voice talking to "Lanny." Who was Lanny? He waited till he had heard enough to know that it was none other than Lanstron, the chief of staff of the Browns, and the woman must be a spy. An orderly dispatched to the chief of intelligence with the news returned with the order:

"Drop everything and report to me in person at once."

"For this I have made my sacrifice!" Marta thought. "The killing goes on by Lanny's orders, not by Westerling's, this time."

Leaving her mother to enjoy the prospect, a slow-moving figure, trance-like, she went along the first terrace path to a point near the veranda where the whole sweep of landscape with its panorama of retreat magnetized her senses. Like the gray of lava, the Gray soldiery was erupting from the range; in columns, still under the control of officers, keeping to the defiles; in swarms and batches, under the control of nothing but their own emotions. Mostly they were hugging cover, but some relied on straight lines of flight and speed of foot for escape. Coursing aeroplanes were playing a new part. Their wireless was informing the Brown gunners where the masses were thickest. This way and that the Brown artillery fire drove retreating bodies, prodding them in the back with the fearful shepherdry of their shells. Officers' swords flashed in the faces of the bolters or in holding rear-guards to their work. Officers and orderlies were galloping hither and thither with messages, in want of wires. Commanders had been told to hold, but how and where to hold? They saw neighboring regiments and brigades going and they had to go. The machine, the complicated modern war machine, was broken: the machine, with its nerves of intelligence cut, became a thing of disconnected parts, each part working out its own salvation. Authority ceased to be that of the bureau and army lists. It was that of units racked by hardship, acting on the hour's demand.

Gorged was the pass road, overflowing with the struggling tumult of men and vehicles. Self-preservation breaking the bonds of discipline was in the ascendant, and it sought the highway, even as water keeps to the river bed. Like specks on the laboring tide was the white of bandages. An ambulance trying to cut out to one side was overturned. The frantic chauffeur and hospital-corps orderly were working to extricate the wounded from their painful position. A gun was overturned against the ambulance. A melee of horses and men was forming at the foot of the garden gate in front of the narrow bounds of the road into the town, as a stream banks up before a jam of driftwood. The struggle for right of way became increasingly wild; the dam of men, horses, and wagons grew. A Brown dirigible was descending toward the great target; but on closer view its commander forbore, the humane impulse outweighing the desire for retribution for colleagues in camp and mess who had gone down in a holocaust in the aerial battles of the night.

Under the awful spell of the panorama, she did not see Westerling, who had stopped only a few feet distant with his aide and his valet, nor did he notice her as the tumult glared his eyes. He was as an artist who looks on the ribbons of the canvas of his painting, or the sculptor on the fragments of his statue. Worse still, with no faith to give him fortitude except the materialistic, he saw the altar of his god of military efficiency in ruins. He who had not allowed the word retreat to enter his lexicon now saw a rout. He had laughed at reserve armies in last night's feverish defiance at Turcas' advocacy of a slower and surer method of attack. In those hours of smiling at a wall with his fists and forehead, in denial of all the truth so clear to average military logic, if he had only even a few conventional directions all this disorder could have been avoided. His army could have fallen back in orderly fashion to their own range. The machine out of order, he had attempted no repair; he had allowed it to thrash itself to pieces.

The artillery's maceration of the human jam suddenly ceased; perhaps because the gunners had seen the Red Croce flag which a doctor had the presence of mind to wave. Westerling turned from a sight worse to him than the killing—that of the flowing retreat along the road pressing frantically over the dead and wounded in growing disorder for the cover of the town. Near by were Bellini, the chief of intelligence, and a subaltern who had arrived only a minute before. The subaltern was dust-covered. He seemed to have come in from a hard ride. Both were watching Marta, as if waiting for her to speak. She met Westerling's look steadily, her eyes dark and still and in his reflection of the vague realization of more than he had guessed in her relations with him.

"Well," she breathed to Westerling, "the war goes on!"

"That's it! That's the voice!" exclaimed the subaltern in an explosion of recognition.

A short, sharp laugh of irony broke from Bellini; the laugh of one whose suspicions are confirmed in the mixture of the sublime and the ridiculous. Marta looked around at the interruption, alert, on guard.

"You seem amused," she remarked curiously.

"No, but you must have been," replied Bellini hoarsely. "Early this morning, not far from the castle, this young officer found in the crater made by a ten-inch shell a wire that ran in a conduit underground. The wire was intact. He tapped it. He heard a voice thanking some one for her part in the victory, and it seems that the woman's voice that answered is yours, Miss Geland. So, General Westerling, the leak in information was over this wire from our staff into the Browns' headquarters, as Bouchard believed and as I came to believe."

So long had Marta expected this moment of exposure that it brought no shock. Her spirit had undergone many subtle rehearsals for the occasion. "Yes, that is true," she heard herself saying, a little distantly, but very quietly and naturally.

Westerling fell back as from a blow in the face. His breath came hard at first, like one being strangled. Then it sank deep in his chest and his eyes were blood-shot, as a bull's in his final effort against the matador. He raised a quivering, clenched fist and took a step nearer her.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."

—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

Dinner Stories

A young man down in Georgia—weight about 115 pounds—had been keeping company with a young woman of his neighborhood—weight about 250 pounds. One evening, after having sat on his lap constantly for three full hours, it occurred to the young woman that her weight might be growing rather irksome to him. She turned her head and smiled down at him tremulously. "Aren't you getting tired, honey?"

"No," he murmured rapturously. "I was about an hour ago, but I'm gettin' sorta numb now."

"These are evil days for the rich men," said George Ade at a luncheon at the Chicago Athletic Club.

"I'd rather be a pickpocket than an interlocking director—there's more honor in it."

"They say that a cannibal king recently sent postbags for his doctor."

"Good gracious, man!" the doctor said. "You're in a dreadful state; what have you been eating?"

"Nothing," groaned the sick man, "except a slice of that multimillionaire whose yacht was wrecked on Cocanoot Reef."

"Merciful powers!" the doctor cried. "And I told you under no circumstances to eat anything! Rich, George, get the says and axes. We must operate at once."

"Tommy," said the teacher to a pupil in the juvenile class, "what is syntax?"

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on

syntaxis."

"I guess it must be the tax on miskey," replied Tommy. And the teacher thought he was entitled to a credit of 100 per cent.

They Won't Let You Reform.

A few days after you have quit tobacco, a friend in Kentucky ships you enough tobacco to last you a year. And when you make up your mind to quit lying, some girl asked you to guess how old she is.—New York Mail.

Something Like Snobbery.

The Montreal Gazette notes that a college woman who has been investigating sociological conditions in New York "was surprised to find that the waitresses in a cheap restaurant where she worked for a while incognito were honest and kindly and happy." The Gazette wonders at her "surprise," and asks: "Does a person to be decent and good have to be a sociologist of independent means?"

Have Thrown Away Their Glasses

Remarkable Letters From Some Who Had The Optona Prescription Filled And Used It.

YOU WHO WEAR GLASSES READ WHAT THEY SAY

It is well known that thousands of people wear glasses who do not need them; they never needed them. Thousands of others wear glasses that do not fit their eyes. The use of a soothing, healing, cleansing lotion to tone up their eyes might in many cases make them perfectly normal. The Optona prescription is used and recommended by thousands. Read what these grateful people say, then cut the prescription out and have Smith Drug Co., or your nearest druggist fill it.

AFTER WEARING GLASSES ELEVEN YEARS

And Losing Thousands of Dollars Because of Poor Eyesight Optona Prescription Brings Relief to Railroad Engineer.

I am the first person I think, that has used Optona in our city, but will say if others that are afflicted with weak eyes will listen to me I am sure you will find a large market here for your remedy. I have worn glasses for about eleven years. I have been a locomotive engineer for thirty years, but I have been relied on account of the rigid visual examination. I am reduced from 200 or more per month to 65 per month. Had I been in possession of your remedy I would have been several thousand dollars better off today.—W. J. Phillips, San Bernardino, Calif.

NOW READS WITHOUT GLASSES

Railroad Passenger Locomotive Engineer Who Passed Every Test Without Glasses Says the Optona Prescription is a Godsend to the World.

Reading your ad in the Minneapolis Journal 4 months ago I got a 50 cent box from Grand Forks and followed your directions up to time of writing. I am the machine before me. I can do both reading now without glasses as in my past life now and have discarded my long disfigurement as a railroad passenger locomotive engineer we must have good sight of distant things. I only used the glasses in reading street news, which for several years have been as I run from Neche, N. D. to Winnipeg. I looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot daily. The Government eye test was not express my joy at what it has done for me. On the 20th, I passed every test. I am writing on typewriting on an thing O. K. without the use of glasses. This average of five hours every day, some Optona is a Godsend to the world at large, times eight, so you see I can appreciate D. Raftery, Locomotive Engineer, Neche, Minn. Optona has done for me.—Mrs. F. C. N. D.

If you wear glasses either your eyes are not normal or you are wearing glasses which you do not need. If your eyes are inflamed or tired and irritated and overworked; if they itch or burn or make you know that you have eyes; if you have ever used an eye water or a collyrium, take the following prescription to your druggist, have it filled and use it at home as an eye bath:

5 grains Optona (1 tablet); 2 ounces Water.

Use from two to four times a day with an eye cup and you may be able to join the ranks of the thousands who have used this prescription and have received benefits beyond anything they expected. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the human body. Oftentimes neglect leads to complications that in turn result in misery, partial loss of sight, or in extreme cases total blindness. Do not neglect your eyes; they are too valuable. Give them the best possible care and preserve your sight and the health of your eyes while there is yet time.

Horses Wanted!

WANTED---100 head of horses weighing from 900 to 1,500 lbs.; from 5 to 8 years old. Must be in good shape. Will be at East Side Hitch Barn, Saturday, Oct. 24th.

NORGATE & WOODS

HEAD AND NOSE STOPPED FROM A COLD? TRY THIS!

"PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND" ENDS SEVERE COLDS OR GRIPPE IN FEW HOURS.

Your cold will break and all grippe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Bane your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

NORTHEAST PORTER

Northeast Porter, Oct. 20.—Louis Jensen was taken with an attack of appendicitis Saturday night and has been under the doctor's care since. At present he is getting along nicely.

Miss Alice Wright is spending the week in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herrick spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Spilke.

Mrs. Laura Harnack is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Saxby in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxby will be remembered as former residents of this section.

Mrs. Herbie Haried spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Kaupinger, of Stoughton.

Miss Susie Nelson spent Monday afternoon with Miss Irene Boothroyd. Rev. Boag of Beloit, was entertained Sunday at the home of Mrs. M. C. A. will occupy the Fulton pulpit Sunday evening in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. All invited.

Mrs. Oesterberg of Stoughton, is spending the week at the home of her son, Hans Oesterberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boothroyd and daughter, Miss Irene, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Haried spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Halverson, near Stoughton.

The ladies of the Fulton church will serve a punch and supper at the hall Friday evening. All invited.

Prof. Stone of the University of Wisconsin will speak at the next social center meeting to be held at the ladies' hall in Fulton, Thursday evening, October 22. His subject will be, "Corn and Small Grains."

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Oct. 20.—Cal Martin, who has been in Brodhead a week, returned to his home in Chicago on Tuesday.

Miss Alta Smith closed her full term of school and left Tuesday for Menomonie, Wisconsin, to spend two weeks.

Miss Emma Lyons was a Rockford visitor on Tuesday.

Miss Charlotte Widdowson of Evansville, has been the guest of Mrs. J. Thompson a week. She returned home on Tuesday.

Mrs. and Miss Valden were passengers to Beloit Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Bourles was a passenger to Lodi, where she will be the guest of relatives for a few days.

Van Marsh spent a part of Tuesday in Janesville.

Ed. Lacey was a passenger to Milwaukee where he expects to spend a few days.

Robert Atwood left on Tuesday for Huron, South Dakota, where he will be the guest of Oliver Martin.

Mrs. Mary K. Jones of Alexander, Minnesota, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Dodge, left on Tuesday for her home.

Fred Coldren arrived in Brodhead after spending some days with relatives in Northern Iowa.

Mrs. Lynn Carr of Stoughton, arrived in Brodhead where she will be the guest of Dr. H. D. Kirkpatrick.

What Does He Mean "Right?" The following advertisement appeared the other day on the first page of the London Times: "Americans please note. A marquis, with an invalid mother needing great care, will sell her right to an old European title. What are the offers?"

PLANS WALKING TOUR TO INSPECT SCHOOLS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Albany, Oct. 22.—State Educational Commissioner Finley, it was said here today, will make periodical tours of inspection through the rural school districts of the state. In his recent investigations of country schools in Northern New York, Dr. Finley used pedestrianism to great extent as a means of locomotion.

Walking, his favorite mode of travel, carried him through the railroad-barren regions of the Adirondacks. The commissioner was on a pedestrian study and pleasure journey through Belgium, France and Germany, when the European war broke out.

CASCARETS FOR BOWELS, STOMACH, HEADACHE, COLDS

CLEAN YOUR LIVER AND CONSTIPATED BOWELS TONIGHT AND FEEL FINE.

Get a 10c box now.

Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

No odds how sick, headachy, bilious and constipated you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing too.

ALIENS IN FRANCE GUARDED CAREFULLY

American Envoy Represents Germans And Austrians Who Failed to Leave France in Time.

(Correspondence of The A. P.) Paris, October 22.—The American Embassy, under its obligations to represent German and Austrian interests in France, is looking after about 800 persons who are detained as alien enemies in eleven localities in France. These were Germans and Austrians living in the country at the outbreak of the war.

The French Government provided special trains going to neutral frontiers for two days after hostilities had begun, and all those remaining within France after the cease-fire went to the police and to those towns in France to which they were assigned.

The State Department at Washington has attached H. Percival Dodge, a French citizen, to the Embassy here as special agent to have charge of German and Austrian affairs. The third floor of the Embassy office building is taken up by this work and a considerable staff of secretaries and interpreters are at work.

The reason that France holds 50,000 civilian prisoners of war appears to be as hostages for the proper treatment of French citizens who are similarly held in Germany and Austria, and to have in hand a means of reprisal should any ill treatment of French soldiers captured by German or Austrian armies.

The most distinguished prisoner is probably Count Pelasegue, minister for Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia. He happened to be at Vichy taking a cure when the war began. He is allowed to remain in his hotel and has complete freedom of movement within the town.

A good many hundreds of German and Austrian subjects have been allowed to remain where they were, in each because of special reasons, usually those of ill health. But they are still about 50,000 in all.

Those who had to go to the detention camps, these are usually in barracks formerly occupied by troops. There is a good deal of crowding and the food is probably about what appears to be every day.

Government to treat these involuntary hostages as well as they can under the necessities of war. There is in France a great deal of suffering among the French people. It is more than millions are less well fed than the German and Austrian prisoners. Nevertheless these prisoners, being forced to live away from their own homes, and life difficult and full of inconveniences. They are allowed to receive money and spend it as they please. They also write and receive letters freely except that they are all read by censors.

Switzerland has undertaken to conduct the exchanges of prisoners and among the first that are being exchanged are French people caught in Germany and Austria by the war and Germans and Austrians detained in France. Germans and Austrians are taken by French police to the Swiss border and turned over there to Swiss agents, who in turn transfer French citizens to the French representatives.

JANESVILLE WOMEN APPEAR ON PROGRAM

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Methodist Church Holds Convention at Beloit.

A number of Janesville women representing the missionary society of the Carroll M. E. church went to Beloit today to attend the forty-first annual convention of the Janesville district of the Methodist church. The sessions began this afternoon and will close on Friday. The following places were expected to send delegations: Clinton, Delavan, Elkhorn, Janesville, Lake Mills, Stoughton, Watertown, Whitewater.

Lake Mills, Brodhead, Sun Prairie, Orfordville, Hanover, Milton Junction.

Mrs. J. E. Lane of this city was the leader of the memorial service which was part of the program today. Mrs. Lane was a solo and Mrs. John Nichols, Jr., sang a solo and Mrs. George A. Jacobs gave a report on the branch meeting recently held at Indianapolis.

Mrs. F. T. Richards will play the organ prelude at the meeting tonight. The Rev. Perry Millar, superintendent of the Janesville district, will deliver the address Friday afternoon. Several missionaries will be present to speak, including a Chinese woman, who will talk Friday night at the closing meeting.

YOUTHFUL CENSUS TAKERS STUDY THEIR OWN COUNTY

Madison, Wis., Oct. 22.—Youthful census takers who are seeing their corner of America first, and who are becoming acquainted with the possibilities of Wisconsin first, are at work in several parts of the state, according to a booklet issued today by the school of agriculture of the Wisconsin university. The school advocates extension of the movement.

In a booklet on "Social Surveys in Rural Districts," the agricultural department tells how the boys and girls of many school districts are studying the hows and whys of the district in which they live. Teachers find that such studies enable them to teach with better understanding. It also develops that such studies are giving farmer boys more reasons for remaining on the farm. Geography becomes in addition to a study of the boundaries of European countries—a study of the boundaries of farms, the amount of woodland and pasture land, the number of acres of alfalfa fields in the township, etc.

Sauk county leads in studies made by school children thus far. Following are some of the questions asked: "Who were the first settlers in the township? Get facts of interest in the history of the district."

How many milk cows are kept on each farm? Get facts relating to farm progress.

Locate any mill, shop or factory. Locate any church or social center building.

Sauk county school children found that there are 27 creameries and 37 cheese factories in the county, 440 silos and 750 acres of alfalfa.

Farmers of the county own 404 automobiles, there are 68 electric and 78 lighted farm houses in the county, 227 bathhouses and 635 farm homes have pianos.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE REPRODUCED AT FAIR

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) San Francisco, Oct. 22.—The Panama canal in miniature, accurate in detail as to topography and hydrography, and with vessels passing through locks that open and shut, will be one of the features at the Panama-Pacific exposition. The building to house the canal will be 575 by 340 feet, with seats so arranged that they will move clear around the little waterway, so that every detail may be seen and described. The cost will be more than $550,000.

INCREASE OF WOOL ORDERS IN SIGHT

Rock River Woolen Mills Expect Big Rush Before Many Weeks.—Dye Stuffs Are Plentiful.

According to Arthur G. Jones, superintendent-manager of the Rock River Woolen Mills, which concern has branch offices in the east, rush orders will have to be filled before many weeks go by. While trade at the present time is not anywhere near slow, Mr. Jones is looking for an increase in demand for woolen goods before long. The big eastern concerns have increased their help and facilities in order to meet the orders that are pouring in. Many of these orders come from the belligerent countries of Europe. England has ordered three million blankets from the American Woolen Company. The recent call for an enormous supply of sweaters to be supplied by the Bradley Knitting Company at Delavan shows that woolen goods are in great demand at the present time.

When asked how much dye stuffs he had on hand, or if it was scarce, Mr. Jones replied that he had in stock enough dye to last until the middle of next March. He further stated that he had experienced little difficulty in purchasing the particular dyes that are used at the mills in this city.

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, October 21.—Mrs. Mary Farnham, an aged resident fell Saturday and at first it was thought the hip was broken, but at present she is resting comfortably.

Mrs. William Lerch and son spent Tuesday in Delavan with her mother and was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Anna Hazard of Detroit, Mich., for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Craig were in Beloit Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cunningham have moved on to their farm on the Milwaukee road.

Mr. Albright has rented the William Pember farm vacated by John Briggs. The Johnstown young ladies will entertain at an autumn party Friday evening at Carl Will's hall.

Sad Fact.

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite sadness of entries on the right-hand page of the bank book.—Ohio State Journal.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Oct. 21.—Arthur Hanson has moved into the Carrie Sormo house, south of the tracks.

Ed. Myhre is contemplating going to California for the benefit of his health. He has rented his farm to Byron Grenawalt, who will take possession about the first of November.

Miss Alma Nelson of Fountain, Minn., is visiting friends in Orfordville. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Tollestrup.

F. B. Cleveland of Bundy, Wis., arrived in the village on Wednesday and will spend some time with friends and relatives hereabouts. He is at the home of his father, J. M. Cleveland.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Arthur C. Gaarder and Miss Edna Hemmings, which occurred on Wednesday. Their many friends wish them great happiness.

The Light and Power company are rushing the work of setting the poles, while the good weather lasts. They are making good progress with the work and the equipment is arriving daily.

Raymond Garey, who has been in the employ of C. O. Ness for the past several months, will take a vacation for a few weeks. His place will be filled by Gahart Gunderson.

Several members of the local Epworth League are planning to attend the rally of group 2 of the Janesville district which is to be held at Milton Junction on Saturday. A fine program will be given.

A large delegation of Orfordville citizens went to Janesville on Wednesday evening to hear a lecture given there. The particulars of the meeting was not announced.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Oct. 21.—A large crowd attended Floyd Jones' barn raising Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harnack and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harnack.

E. E. Acheson was an Evansville visitor Monday.

A number from here attended the annual spring opening of the Economy store at Evansville Wednesday.

CLINTON

Clinton, Oct. 21.—George H. Graves has purchased a new touring car.

Rev. and Mrs. William Crawford returned home Saturday.

Miss Sadie Ives of Hartford, Wis., and Miss Vickie of Beloit, Wis., who are both teaching at Beloit took dinner here Saturday with Mrs. W. H. Nordrop.

Mrs. Hattie Hinde and children have moved back to Beloit from whence they came some moons back.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kniskern are moving from Allan Grove to the home they purchased on Durand street. Clinton people generally will most heartily welcome this most estimable couple.

Mrs. W. F. Winn and Mrs. E. S. Duxstad have organized an Auction

Bridge Club of 12 ladies which will be known as the A. B. C. club, and will meet every other Thursday afternoon; if plans already made carry out, it will be the smartest club yet organized in Clinton.

Refreshments each time will be served by Caterer Mrs. Ellithorpe.

Frank Hughes of Madison joined his wife and daughter here Saturday and will visit his brother and other relatives this week.

Mrs. M. S. Hitchcock arrived from Marion Iowa, Saturday to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Boden and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Barnes went to Milwaukee Tuesday morning, will return this evening. Their son Donald looked after the depot during their absence.

The Bowman Dairy Co's buildings are being repainted white.

Mrs. U. J. Two and son of Winnebago, Ill., spent Sunday here with Mrs. Two's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Clapper.

Mrs. Eda Scott and R. G. Klingbeil of the Hamilton & Company store force are confined to their home by illness.

Mrs. E. S. Duxstad entertained Mesdames M. C. Curran and B. C. Moser of Janesville yesterday.

Mrs. Hannah Stoney and Flora E. Smith returned Saturday from Delavan Lake where they have been spending some time at the Stoney cottage on the assembly grounds.

Mr. Andrew P. Peterson and daughters returned from Rockford Ill. Monday evening where they were visiting relatives for two weeks.

Mrs. Lewis Shaw, nee Edna Woods, is visiting her father and brother here.

Mrs. Prouty and a lady friend of Janesville visited Mrs. A. R. Richard Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Jos. Zwolonek and daughter Helen went to Stoughton Saturday to visit relatives and friends for Sunday returning Monday.

It is reported that Loudlord Daeener has sold the Hotel Clinton to out of town parties, it is impossible to confirm the report at this time.

GERMAN SOLDIERS GIVEN "IRON CROSS" BADGES FOR BRAVERY ON FIELD.

(Correspondence of The A. P.) Berlin, Oct. 22.—Immediately after the revival of the Iron Cross at the beginning of the war not less than 150,000 of these decorations were ordered, and about 40,000 of them have already been conferred.

A Berlin firm, which makes a specialty of manufacturing orders, keeps twenty men employed all the time making these crosses. They are made of cast-iron, lacquered in black and bordered with silver; the first class, in addition to this, has the reverse side of silver. The Iron Cross was instituted in 1813, during the Napoleonic Wars, by King Frederick William III, as a reward for bravery in the field. It is conferred on officers and privates alike, and is, in fact, the most democratic of all the Prussian orders.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR! NO MORE DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

HAIR COMING OUT? IF DRY, THIN, FADED, BRING BACK ITS COLOR AND LUSTRE.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and abundant; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

MILTON

Milton, Oct. 21.—Dr. G. W. Post of Chicago, has been in town this week.

A. G. Crosby has returned from his Canadian trip.

Albert Edward Wiggam delivered his lecture entitled, "Hereditry and Civilization" at the college gym Monday evening, under the auspices of the W. V. I. club. It was a scholarly address and gave general satisfaction.

Mr. Robbins of North Loup, Neb., has been a Milton visitor this week.

Mrs. J. E. Davidson left Tuesday for Beloit, Kansas, to visit her sons for a few weeks.

Mrs. J. J. McFarlane of Johnstown, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stewart.

EMERALD GROVE

Emerald Grove, October 21.—The funeral of William C. Foote was held at the home of his nephew Frank Foote at 2:00 p. m. Monday, October 19th. William Foote was born January 22, 1836 in Fulton county, New York, where he grew to manhood.

May 25, 1864 he married Sarah Ellen Whitely, coming to Green county, Wisconsin in 1864, where his wife passed to the great world beyond in 1897. He was a carpenter by trade. Many are the monuments of his honest upright conscientious labor.

In 1881 he went to Medford, Wis., which had been his home since, and where he was highly respected as a quiet retiring disposition. His health failed some two years ago, but he was able to be around. Three weeks ago he came to the home of his nephew where on the morning of October 18th he passed away with heart trouble.

There will be a Halloween social at the church parlors, Wednesday evening, October 28. Chicken pie supper. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Eliza Loyd entertained at a family dinner last Sunday.

ference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and abundant; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with rich guaiac and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

We Now Present The Overcoat of the Season THE KLAVICLE!

With the approach of the skir-mish line of winter, in self defense men's thoughts are turning overcoatward.

For those who prefer a loose, draping garment—a garment that is a distinction as well as a necessity—there can be but one answer this season to this overcoat question—THE KLAVICLE.

In all the years of our clothing experience it has never been our privilege to see anything that even approached it as a fashion achievement. In fact, we doubt whether there is another overcoat that can seriously dispute this Kuppenheimer production's title to absolute superiority—in point of style, comfort, and service.

Cut with all the drape and swing of a soldier's cape. Full military back and sleeves, all from one piece of cloth but without a seam. Padless shoulders. Wide velvet collar. Full soft roll lapel. Genuine natural buffalo horn buttons.

Within the impregnable defense of this sturdy-fabricked, brilliantly styled garment the wearer may face a long Winter's siege with an even and a tranquil mind.

To-morrow and all next week we will make a special showing of the KLAVICLE in Belgian Chinchillas and in French Montagnacs from the famed looms of Sedan, as well as in the most favored American weaves at $20, $25, $30 and $45.

R. M. Bostwick & Son

Merchants of Fine Clothes. Main Street at Number Sixteen South.

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS in these classified columns is one cent per word per insertion. Nothing less than 25c accepted. Cash discount 25 per cent if paid at time of order is given. Charge accounts 1 cent per word.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

WHEN YOU THINK OF Insurance, think of C. P. BEERS, 128 E. 1st St. It is good HARDWARE, Mc-Namara has it.

RAZORS HONED—25c. Premo Bros. 27-11.

QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S. 27-11.

FOR GOOD GOODS Talk to Lowell, 1-15-30-11.

HOLLAND FURNACES make warm friends. F. F. Van Coevern. Both phones 481. 1-10-22-31.

WANTED—Everybody to get in on our 10 per cent cut on all electrical equipment. Call up before doing any work in our line. M. A. Jorsch, both phones. 1-10-17-11.

Make your House Cleaning easy by ordering the Auto Vacuum Cleaner. Also scrub rugs and carpets. Frank J. Porter, new phone 1024. White. 1-10-22-31.

GOOD PRACTICAL NURSE with some training, would like to care for invalid in place where she could get home nights. Prices very reasonable. Address "Nurse," care of Gazette. 1-10-22-31.

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER in High Goods. Wigs made to order. Mrs. Sadler, 111 W. Milwaukee street, near Mrs. Woodstock's. 1-10-22-31.

PAINTER, MASONRY, PAINTING—Nothing but expert workmen. My price will save you money. Get my figures on your work. Edwin Man, 505 Eastern Ave., Bell phone 1038. 1-9-4-00.

THE BUSINESS HOUSES advertising in this column value your patronage enough to spend money going after it.

SITUATION WANTED, Female.

A GIRL OR WOMAN who advertises here wants a man who will give her energy and determination.

A good practical nurse wants a position. Small salary. No objection to country. Address Nurse, care of Gazette. 2-10-22-31.

SITUATION WANTED, MALE

MR. EMPLOYER, if this column does not suit you, please let me know your requirements, your ad on this page will bring him to you.

WANTED—Janitor work "preference" experienced and steady, good reference. Box 6, R. D. No. 1, Bageron, Wis. 2-10-22-31.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

IF THERE ARE NO POSITIONS open here for you try advertising for a position yourself. Give the Gazette for an address if you like.

WANTED—Housekeeper for 2 men in the country. Address John Higgins, Rte. S. Bell phone 5123. Red. 4-10-22-31.

WANTED—Several girls for power machine stitching. Apply at once. Lewis Knitting Co. 4-10-22-31.

WANTED—Two dining room girls also for private houses. Mrs. E. McCarthy, both phones. 4-10-22-31.

WANTED—A competent girl for general housework. Call or write. Rev. D. Q. Grabbill, Evansville, Phone 254 Blue. 4-10-22-31.

WANTED—Waitresses at Savoy Cafe. 4-10-21-31.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Apply 320 S. Second St. Country girl preferred. 4-10-21-31.

WANTED—Competent girl for general housework. Mrs. J. B. Fuchs, 25 East St. North. 4-10-21-31.

MALE HELP WANTED

POSITIONS ARE OPEN to men of ambition. If you want something better advertise under another heading.

WANTED—Experienced male stenographer. Also male bookkeeper. Give age, experience, references and salary expected. The W. C. Rawlough Company, Freeport, Ill. 5-10-23-31.

WANTED—Strong boy at the Janesville Steam Dye Works. 5-10-21-31.

WANTED—A married man to work on farm by month or year. Call 576B, W. J. Florin, Avalon, Wis. 6-10-21-31.

AGENTS WANTED

WE STRIVE to keep from this page all unreliable agents. Let us know if you answer a fake. We will prosecute them.

WANTED, FURNISHED FLAT. THIS OFFICE is constantly being asked for addresses of furnished flats. We do not know about yours unless you have an ad running under "for rent."

HOUSES WANTED

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THIS PAGE will save house owners from leaving empty houses. You can rent a quicker by advertising.

WANTED TO RENT ROOMS BY WATCHING THIS SPACE the housewife may rent out her rooms. She can fill them quicker by advertising them for rent.

WANTED LOANS

MONEY GROWS when it is worked. A little spent on this page will bring you a lot of money.

WANTED TO BORROW. $100.00 on Rock county real estate, best of security. "Y. C." care of Gazette. 29-10-20-31.

REAL ESTATE WANTED

DON'T WAIT for someone to advertise under this heading. Place your ad in the for sale column.

WANTED—Small farm or tobacco land to work on shares. I also do housework, grubbing, blasting stumps, etc. by contract. Write H. Norton, Box 10, Beloit, Wis. 6-10-22-31.

WANTED, BOARD & ROOMS.

GOOD BOARD is always in demand. Why not let the "homeless" know you can take a boarder or two and give them home cooked meals?

WANTED, MISCELLANEOUS.

AT A PRICE agreeable to both parties anything you have to dispose of can be quickly sold somewhere on this page.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT

THE ROOMS YOU WANT may not be here but the owners might answer for ad under another classification.

FOR RENT—Furnished or unfurnished rooms. New phone 734 White. 8-10-21-31.

FOR RENT—One furnished room. 113 South Main. Cullen Apts. 3-10-20-31.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms at 208 So. Main St. 8-10-20-41.

BOARD AND ROOM TO RENT

OFTEN TIMES when there are no advertisements here you can find a good home place by advertising under "Wanted, board and rooms."

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS.

FOR RENT—Modern furnished light housekeeping rooms. Call after six thirty p. m. 920 W. Bluff St. New phone 481. 4-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms for light housekeeping on first floor. 402 E. Milwaukee St. 6-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished heated light housekeeping rooms. Good location. Old phone 541. 6-10-21-31.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Close to depot. 509 West Milwaukee street. 6-10-21-31.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT

UNDER THIS HEADING an unfurnished bare room or rooms may be just what someone wants, and you become the gainer.

FOR RENT—Five rooms. Inquire at 617 So. Jackson St. Janesville. Wis. 9-10-22-31.

FLATS FOR RENT

A GOOD WARM FLAT will be nice this winter. If you do not see any ad to suit you, let us advertise for it under "flats wanted."

FOR RENT—Modern steam heated flat. M. P. Richardson, Lovejoy Block. 11-9-12-11.

FOR RENT—Apartment in Cullen apartments, Milwaukee ave. Inquire Cullen Bros. coal office. 4-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—Five-room apartment. modern. New phone 1166 White. Old phone 368. 4-10-21-31.

FOR RENT—Modern 6-room flat. Inquire 521 Cornelia. Old phone 1079, New 388. 4-10-13-11.

HOUSES FOR RENT

IT'S A GOOD CITY where few houses are for rent. There will be houses for rent later which you can get an option on by advertising for it.

FOR RENT—House and barn on Sharon St. Inquire J. A. Bier, New phone 1029 Black. 1-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—Seven room house corner of Adams and Sherman. Inquire F. A. Spoon, 216 Terrace St. 11-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—Good 7 room house and barn on Highland avenue. Well, cistern and electric lights. Rent $12.50. Possession at once. Inquire P. Beers, Agent. 11-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—South side of double house. 410 Terrace St. 11-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—House, electric lights, gas, toilet. Near high school. Possession at once. A. W. Hall, both phones. 11-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—A nine-room modern house. Inquire 321 Lincoln street. 11-10-22-31.

FOR RENT—8-room house on Cherry street. with gas hard and soft water; large garden and barn. Inquire 182 So. Jackson or call new phone White 508. 11-10-20-31.

FOR RENT—House, Center St. Inquire Dr. Michaelis. 11-10-20-31.

FOR RENT—Modern house, 414 N. Washington street. J. J. DeForest, Bell phone 674 or Red 571. 11-10-19-31.

FOR RENT—House. Old phone 1452. 11-10-15-31.

FOR RENT—The McKinney home- stead, 221 Court St. Eleven rooms. Modern throughout. Carter & Morse. 11-10-17-11.

FOR RENT—Six room house at 222 Park St. Phone or call Dr. E. E. Loomis' residence. 11-10-13-11.

FARMS TO LET

BACK TO THE FARM may be the right solution. If you don't find a farm here advertise for it.

STORES FOR RENT

FOR RENT—The middle store in Norcross Block. Apply to F. L. Stevens, Lovejoy Block. 4-10-14-11.

DANCING INSTRUCTIONS

INSTRUCTION in all the latest dances. Mrs. A. J. Pegelow, 15 Jackson street. Both phones. 6-10-14-00-1mo

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

OPPORTUNITY comes only to hustlers. If you are you are busy, a Gazette want ad will hustle for you by proxy.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

REAL BARGAINS in musical instruments are daily advertised.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS FOR SALE

ODD PIECES of furniture can be bought reasonably if you watch this space regularly.

FOR SALE—Six van loads of house- hold goods at my warehouse, situated at the west end of the Fourth street. Stoves, dressers, buffets, dining tables, dining chairs, bedsteads, one large heater suitable for store or school house. All must go at any price as the room is to be used for other purposes. Here are used for our prices. New $25.00 but feel, $13.00. 6 new leather seat chairs, regular $3.50 for $2.00 and $4.00 chairs for $2.50. $2.00 round dining table for $1.00. Second hand table for $1.00. 5 p. m. each day. W. J. Cannon. 16-10-21-31.

FOR SALE—Art Andes heating stove in good condition. Price $8.00. Old phone 1418. 16-10-22-31.

FOR SALE—One large and one small baseburner and a gas plate. $12. Milwaukee Ave. New phone 235. 16-10-22-31.

FOR SALE—Dining room table, $2.50; springs and rocker, $1.50; iron bed, $1.50; kitchen table, $1. 410 North Terrace. 16-10-21-31.

FOR SALE—A solid cast iron Jewell kitchen range, stands on legs, as good as new. Will sell for any reasonable price. Call Old phone 532 after 6 p. m. 16-10-21-31.

FOR SALE—One large coal heater. Call 317 Madison street. 13-10-20-31.

FOR SALE—White enamel iron bed, springs and mattress. Mrs. John R. Nichols, 309 S. Bluff street. 16-10-20-31.

FOR SALE—McGee Grand range in first class condition. Art Garland heater, stove pipe drum, chunk stove, walnut kitchen table, walnut bedstead. Arthur Ward, 809 St. Mary's Ave. Bell telephone 2024. 16-10-20-31.

FOR SALE—Second hand Favorite Heating Stove, perfect condition. $15.00. $5.00 down, $1.00 per week. Talk to Lowell. 16-10-17-31.

FOR SALE—Large size Peninsular Heating Stove, $15.00. Easy payments. Talk to Lowell. 16-10-17-31.

FOR SALE—Second hand Gas Stove new. $3.00. Easy payments. Talk to Lowell. 16-10-17-31.

FOR SALE—Household goods. Must be sold at once. Call from 2 to 5 p. m. or phone number 557 Peters' apartments No. 4. 16-10-16-11.

FOR SALE—Second hand Kitchen outfit, $5.00, almost new. Talk to Lowell. 16-10-17-11.

FOR SALE—On heaters will take the chill off your room at a small expense. Talk to Lowell. 16-10-17-11.

FOR SALE—Clean strong soap bar- rel with head, 75 cents at Gazette. 13-10-16-11.

FOR SALE, MISCELLANEOUS

PEOPLE ADVERTISING HERE soon find that advertising pays. These same people would read your ad under "Wanted."

BUY New and Old Wagons at West Side Hitch Barn. 13-10-20-41.

FOR SALE—One imported blue serge suit, size 37. Not a misfit, a mistake in color; a bargain. Come soon. Allen, 66 So. Main. 13-10-20-31.

BUY Bran, Midds, Oats, Corn, Ground Side Hitch Barn. 13-10-20-31.

KILN DRIED MAPLE CLIPPINGS. Just the thing for a quick sale. $2.50 per load. Schaller Lumber Co. 13-10-16-26.

BUY De Laval 900-lb. Separator, used 7 months; a snap. West Side Hitch Barn. 13-10-20-31.

BUY New Ideal Separator, nothing equal to it. West Side Hitch Barn. 13-10-20-31.

PAPER TOWELS AND FIXTURES.

Sanitary and economical for schools and public buildings, factories, work rooms, etc., indispensable for the kitchen, 25c per roll, $9 case of 50 rolls. Quality Printing & Engraving Co., 77-4 rings Bell, 27 Rock St. 13-12-11.

FOR SALE—First class horse or cow feed. $1 per hundred weight. Doty Mill. 13-10-17-11.

BUY very best flour made at $1.50 per sack. West Side Hitch Barn. 13-10-20-31.

FOR SALE—Old newspapers, 5 cents a bundle. Gazette Office. 13-5-14-11.

FOR SALE—Complete map of Rock county, showing all roads, school houses, churches, towns, villages, cities, railroads, farms with number of acres and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size. $2.00 or free with a year's advance subscription to the Daily Gazette.

THE NEW GAZETTE PARCELS POST MAPS of the United States giving all units and the zones from our Unit No. 2263, the most correct map published, are ready for delivery at the Gazette. By paying up back subscriptions and paying for one year in advance for the Daily Gazette, the map will be sent free. The map is regularly sold at $1.00. Gazette patrons may have it at 25 cents or by mail at 35 cents. 2-13-11.

FOR SALE—At St. Joseph's Convent a new set of Rosary Beads, Gold Chains, Medallions, Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices. 13-12-11.

FOR SALE—Engraved cards, wedding invitations and announcements engraved and embossed. Stationery produced in the very latest and newest letter designs. We have connections with several engraving houses which give us very prompt service. Call phone Rock Co. 27, Bell, 77-4, for Priting Department of the Gazette. 13-12-11.

BICYCLE SUPPLIES—Premo Brothers.

FOR SALE—New and second-hand carom and pocket billiard tables, bowling alleys and accessories, bar fixtures of all kinds. Easy payments. "WE WILL DELIVER." BRUNSWICK-BALKE-COLLENDER CO., 277-277-278 West Water street, Milwaukee. 13-7-18-11.

AUTOMOBILES

IF YOU DON'T FIND WHAT YOU WANT here, advertise for it.

FOR SALE—One Cadillac touring car just painted, new tires, good condition, bargain. Robt. P. Euge. 13-10-20-31.

FOR SALE—Two second hand auto- mobiles. Nitscher Implement Co. 13-10-12-31.

OXY-ACETYLENE Welding welds any broken automobile part on short notice. Janesville Motor Co., 17-19 So. Main street. 18-5-12-11.

MOTORCYCLES

SECOND HAND MOTORCYCLES are often as good as new for your money. Keep an eye on these ads and buy one cheap.

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY MAY BE HAD on good security if you can interest those who have it. Let them know through these columns what your needs are. Give this office as your address if you prefer.

FINANCIAL

FINANCIAL PROPOSITIONS must first pass the Gazette's investigation as to merit, before an ad appears.

HARDWARE

HARDWARE can be sold at a profit and bought at a saving under this heading.

WE ARE SOLE AGENTS for Acorn Stoves and Ranges. Talk to Lowell. 14-10-17-31.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE YOUR PROPERTY for one that will better suit you. This can be done with an ad under this classification.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

MANY A BARGAIN IN REAL ESTATE can be picked up by daily reading these ads. If in a hurry advertise under "Real estate wanted."

FOR SALE—Improved farm. Wishing to retire from farming due to ill health will sell my farm of 240 acres in southeastern North Dakota, 60 miles from Minnesota line, in best section of state. 150 acres under cultivation; fenced, fine level land, pastured and meadow, fair house, 20 granaries, new barn 40 x 25 ft. Good general land young grove of several thousand trees, some fruit, 2 1/2 miles from school, 3 miles from town, 1/2 mile from river. Fine neighborhood. $26 per acre, a snap. Ole Hilde, Ft. Ramson, N. Dakota. 23-10-22-11.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES

ARE YOU INTERESTED in buying or selling a horse or carriage? Place your advertisement here and your desires will be accomplished.

POULTRY AND HOUSEHOLD PETS

SOMEBODY WANTS what you have or has just what you want—advertise.

FOR SALE—15 single comb Rhode Island Red pullets, great winter layers. 301 S. Academy St. New phone 1146 Red. 22-10-20-31.

LIVESTOCK

FOR SALE—100 or more feeding pigs. C. H. Howard, both phones. 21-10-21-31.

TIMELY HINTS FROM F. H. GREEN & SON.

Keep your hogs healthy by using Sot-Vet. 75c, $1.25 and $5.00 per pair sold on a guarantee.

We sell bbl. and rock salt, also fine salt in 100-lb. sacks. Right prices. If you want to buy or sell hay and straw in car lots or less, call us up.

We buy barley, oats, wheat, corn, etc., at market prices.

Q. meal, midds, bran, ground feed, poultry food, ground barley, cracked corn, etc.

Wholesale and retail. Prompt service.

F. H. GREEN & SON. 10-21-31.

AUCTION DIRECTORY.

Consult this directory before setting your date so as not to conflict with others. Send for free booklet, "Auction Sales and How to Prepare For Them."

October 24—L. J. Cronin, prop., 426 Eastern Ave. W. T. Dooley, auctioneer.

OCTOBER 27—John Drew, Prop., end of Racine street. Thos. M. Rafter, Auctioneer.

October 28—John Lyons, Janesville. R. F. D. No. 6. John Ryan, auctioneer.

AUCTIONEERS

G. J. SCHAFFNER, Auctioneer, 10c years experience. Hanover, Wis. Rockville Telephone 464.

LUCIUS A. ROSS, AUCTIONEER— Terms and dates on application. Long distance and rural phones. Belville, Wis.

JOHN RYAN, Auctioneer, Telephone 33012, Footville, Wis.

THOS. M. RAFTER, General Auction- eer. Have pleased others, can please you. Bell phone 1894, Janesville.

PETEY ABROAD—NOW, WASN'T THE GENERAL KIND!

By C. A. VOIGHT

SPORTS

STOVE LEAGUE FANS DISCUSS BALL DOPE

Hal Sheridan Warns All Fans to Sit Tight for Changes to be Made in the Baseball World.

(By Hal Sheridan.)

New York, Oct. 22.—All baseball fans, major, minor and outlaw, are hereby warned to sit tight and take firm hold on themselves. For this winter the old baseball boat is going to be rocked as it was never rocked before and any who haven't got a death grip will go overboard sure.

The magnates are not talking much—once. That in itself is an ominous sign, for when a baseball magnate won't talk, one may know that something is brewing of a mighty serious character at that. But confab after confab is being held behind closed doors and many mighty important missives are passing back and forth between the ruling powers in the baseball world.

Just what is going to happen is hard to forecast. One thing is certain, however, and that is that when the gong rings in the spring of 1915 for the getting away, the baseball world will have a vastly different appearance to the one it presented during the past season. The warring powers in Europe won't manage the face of that country any more than the kings of baseball will manage the looks of organized baseball this winter.

The reason for this change is very plain—baseball clubs throughout the country lost more money during the past season than ever before in their history. And there are few who don't believe that the cause lies in the Federal league and they also think that if baseball is to continue as a profitable business, that peace will have to be made with the Federals.

It isn't that the Federal league made the two major league clubs lose so much money. They didn't do that. But the clubs did hurt and hurt badly, are the Class A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z, AA, AB, AC, AD, AE, AF, AG, AH, AI, AJ, AK, AL, AM, AN, AO, AP, AQ, AR, AS, AT, AU, AV, AW, AX, AY, AZ, BA, BB, BC, BD, BE, BF, BG, BH, BI, BJ, BK, BL, BM, BN, BO, BP, BQ, BR, BS, BT, BU, BV, BW, BX, BY, BZ, CA, CB, CC, CD, CE, CF, CG, CH, CI, CJ, CK, CL, CM, CN, CO, CP, CQ, CR, CS, CT, CU, CV, CW, CX, CY, CZ, DA, DB, DC, DD, DE, DF, DG, DH, DI, DJ, DK, DL, DM, DN, DO, DP, DQ, DR, DS, DT, DU, DV, DW, DX, DY, DZ, EA, EB, EC, ED, EE, EF, EG, EH, EI, EJ, EK, EL, EM, EN, EO, EP, EQ, ER, ES, ET, EU, EV, EW, EX, EY, EZ, FA, FB, FC, FD, FE, FF, FG, FH, FI, FJ, FK, FL, FM, FN, FO, FP, FQ, FR, FS, FT, FU, FV, FW, FX, FY, FZ, GA, GB, GC, GD, GE, GF, GG, GH, GI, GJ, GK, GL, GM, GN, GO, GP, GQ, GR, GS, GT, GU, GV, GW, GX, GY, GZ, HA, HB, HC, HD, HE, HF, HG, HH, HI, HJ, HK, HL, HM, HN, HO, HP, HQ, HR, HS, HT, HU, HV, HW, HX, HY, HZ, IA, IB, IC, ID, IE, IF, IG, IH, II, IJ, IK, IL, IM, IN, IO, IP, IQ, IR, IS, IT, IU, IV, IW, IX, IY, IZ, JA, JB, JC, JD, JE, JF, JG, JH, JI, JJ, JK, JL, JM, JN, JO, JP, JQ, JR, JS, JT, JU, JV, JW, JX, JY, JZ, KA, KB, KC, KD, KE, KF, KG, KH, KI, KJ, KK, KL, KM, KN, KO, KP, KQ, KR, KS, KT, KU, KV, KW, KX, KY, KZ, LA, LB, LC, LD, LE, LF, LG, LH, LI, LJ, LK, LL, LM, LN, LO, LP, LQ, LR, LS, LT, LU, LV, LW, LX, LY, LZ, MA, MB, MC, MD, ME, MF, MG, MH, MI, MJ, MK, ML, MM, MN, MO, MP, MQ, MR, MS, MT, MU, MV, MW, MX, MY, MZ, NA, NB, NC, ND, NE, NF, NG, NH, NI, NJ, NK, NL, NM, NN, NO, NP, NQ, NR, NS, NT, NU, NV, NW, NX, NY, NZ, OA, OB, OC, OD, OE, OF, OG, OH, OI, OJ, OK, OL, OM, ON, OO, OP, OQ, OR, OS, OT, OU, OV, OW, OX, OY, OZ, PA, PB, PC, PD, PE, PF, PG, PH, PI, PJ, PK, PL, PM, PN, PO, PP, PQ, PR, PS, PT, PU, PV, PW, PX, PY, PZ, QA, QB, QC, QD, QE, QF, QG, QH, QI, QJ, QK, QL, QM, QN, QO, QP, QQ, QR, QS, QT, QU, QV, QW, QX, QY, QZ, RA, RB, RC, RD, RE, RF, RG, RH, RI, RJ, RK, RL, RM, RN, RO, RP, RQ, RR, RS, RT, RU, RV, RW, RX, RY, RZ, SA, SB, SC, SD, SE, SF, SG, SH, SI, SJ, SK, SL, SM, SN, SO, SP, SQ, SR, SS, ST, SU, SV, SW, SX, SY, SZ, TA, TB, TC, TD, TE, TF, TG, TH, TI, TJ, TK, TL, TM, TN, TO, TP, TQ, TR, TS, TT, TU, TV, TW, TX, TY, TZ, UA, UB, UC, UD, UE, UF, UG, UH, UI, UJ, UK, UL, UM, UN, UO, UP, UQ, UR, US, UT, UU, UV, UW, UX, UY, UZ, VA, VB, VC, VD, VE, VF, VG, VH, VI, VJ, VK, VL, VM, VN, VO, VP, VQ, VR, VS, VT, VU, VV, VW, VX, VY, VZ, WA, WB, WC, WD, WE, WF, WG, WH, WI, WJ, WK, WL, WM, WN, WO, WP, WQ, WR, WS, WT, WU, WV, WW, WX, WY, WZ, XA, XB, XC, XD, XE, XF, XG, XH, XI, XJ, XK, XL, XM, XN, XO, XP, XQ, XR, XS, XT, XU, XV, XW, XX, XY, XZ, YA, YB, YC, YD, YE, YF, YG, YH, YI, YJ, YK, YL, YM, YN, YO, YP, YQ, YR, YS, YT, YU, YV, YW, YX, YY, YZ, ZA, ZB, ZC, ZD, ZE, ZF, ZG, ZH, ZI, ZJ, ZK, ZL, ZM, ZN, ZO, ZP, ZQ, ZR, ZS, ZT, ZU, ZV, ZW, ZX, ZY, ZZ.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY CLEARS HIMSELF.

A NATURAL neighborly friendship and good-will leads your tobacco chewer to tell his friends about "Right-Cut", the Real Tobacco Chew.

And it's welcome news to the man who hears it—just as it was to you. "Right-Cut" gives the satisfying taste of rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It's a ready chew, cut fine and short and so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York

BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US

LAWRENCE FIGHTING FOR BADGER TITLE

Coming Game at Beloit May Settle Dispute—Carroll Eliminated at Hands of Appleton Men.

The fight for the Wisconsin state championship among the smaller colleges this year is the most exciting in many years. Lawrence's strength, which was the cause of his sudden surprise, and Beloit's green team, make a situation that is complex, despite the fact that Lawrence are already claiming the title. The northerners claim that the Beloit game will decide the championship. But before they journey to the Line City, they must meet the Marquette eleven, who have loaded up with plays for that particular contest on Saturday, the first of this month.

Carroll has already upset Marquette, 16 to 0, while Beloit defeated the Catholics on Tuesday of this week at Milwaukee, 13 to 0. Since Carroll's battle with the Milwaukee eleven, the latter have met Wisconsin, which game strengthened Marquette considerably. The result shows that Beloit's green team are not so green after all. Lawrence won from Carroll, 13 to 3 on the former's gridiron last Saturday. If Beloit should play Carroll, which contest lies in doubt, and Carroll could win, then the situation would be most complex. Beloit's strength is being underrated by Catlin's men, and if Lawrence are beaten, then who will be champions? In this case, Beloit would be the rightful champions.

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT EXHIBITED BY HIGHS

Blue Eleven Must Brace up if Any Contests Are to be Won on the Gridiron This Season.

Despite Coach Curtis' efforts to place his football squad representing the Janesville high school on an equal footing with the surrounding prep institutions, the players have showed no marked improvement since the season opened. In fact, the practice held yesterday brought out weak spots in the line especially, that were not noticeable before. It goes to show that weight amounts to little in the new gridiron game, and that speed and headwork are the main assets to be used in the contests of today.

Yesterday, a few high school alumni players were on the field, and formed a defense wall against the high school regulars. Time and again, the old-timers tore through the heavy line of the highs, and downed the runners before they could get a fair start.

It is rumored that Richards, one of the mainstays on the left extremity of the line, will not play again this season, owing to parental objection. His loss will be a big one, for in the game at Freeport last Saturday, he topped his opponent, who weighed close to 200, many times during the fracas, and was able to turn the runners in, for little or no gain.

Many of the players on the team have stated that they will quit and disband, unless a victory can be realized Saturday against the Edgerton "tobacco city" squad. A mass meeting for Friday afternoon, is meeting with favor with many of the students, to arouse enough interest to get a crowd out to the game. Enthusiasm at the Janesville high school has been hardly noticeable for the past three or four years. Many are wondering what the reason is.

Sport Snap Shots

California has long been the foremost state in the country for the staging of important boxing matches, but there is now real danger that the sport will be killed. At the next election an amendment killing boxing is to be submitted. The reformers are paying particular attention to the women voters, and say that if they can get out a large number of the fair ones to the polls the sport will be killed.

HERE'S THE STORY OF A LEAN YEAR

- Australasian challengers defeated United States holders for Davis international lawn tennis trophy.
- British challengers defeated United States holders for international polo cup in the United States.
- British players repelled efforts of Americans to win amateur golf title of Great Britain.
- Freddie Welsh, challenger, defeated Willie Ritchie, champion, for lightweight boxing title in England.
- Oxford team won four-mile relay championship of Pennsylvania track games.
- Harvard second varsity eight won Grand Challenge rowing cup in England.
- Jay Gould, amateur champion, defeated George Convey, professional, for world's open court tennis title in Philadelphia.
- Races for Hensworth international motor boat cup.
- Cowes, England (Chicago hydroplane Disturber IV, challenger), called off.
- America's cup yacht races (Shamrock IV, challenger), postponed.

Michigan Wildcat is one of those ring oddities—a real fighter, of the Batling Nelson type, who never ceases fighting from the first clang of the gong until the end of the bout. Wolgat's latest bit of misfortune occurred while preparing for his proposed fight with Jose Rivers. Wolgat had the plaster cast out away from his right hand the other day, and is now ready for the active winter campaign.

Eddie McGoorty and Joe Shugrue have returned from Australia and already the flatie game has been lived considerably. McGoorty lost no time in challenging the winner of the Jimmy Clabby George Chip scrap, which will be held at San Francisco, November 9, instead of October 30, the date originally announced. Shugrue will probably be pitted against Red Watson, who won over Dick Hyland by a knockout in the thirteenth round at San Francisco the other night.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

CARDINAL NINE HOPE TO WIPE OUT DEFEAT IN GAME ON SUNDAY

Players Confident That They Will Defeat Champion Beloit North Ends in Second Game.

On Sunday the game of games will be scheduled and a fight that will overshadow the European mess will be staged when the Janesville Cardinals will be pitted against the Beloit North Ends in the second and deciding game of the series for the baseball title of Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin. It will be decided in that if Beloit repeats her victory it will be all off for the Janesville team.

But defeat is an untalked of possibility among the Janesville fans and players, who promise to show the Beloits a few things about the national pastime that has not yet been exposed to the Line City public. The Cardinal manager, "Roddy" Enright is wearing a confident smile and Captain Fred Porter is also grinning to those who ask him the outlook of the game. A surprise is promised the attendants of the combat and a victory is prophesied.

After the Cardinals defeated Beloit three straight games, they met a re-organized team with two new "ringers" and Crandall, the Cardinal pitcher failed to deliver his usual brand of heaving. The team went to pieces and were helpless before the terrific hitting of the North Ends. Sunday's line-up for the Cardinals as billed will be: Hall, c.; Crandall, pitcher; Hyland of Madison, who has previously played with the Cards, will probably play short; Porter will probably guard first with Johnson or Butters at the keystone sack; Ryan may play third or Hyland may be shifted to the far cushion. Nor, Sullivan and Berger will play in the outfield. Beloit announces their regular lineup with Woolton and Gharney, Minneapolis Association player at the battery.

The biggest crowd of the year is expected for the Janesville fans will be in the grandstand full force pulling for a victory and a loyal squad of Beloit rooters will undoubtedly be on hand expecting to see Beloit humiliate the Cardinals again and annex the title. Umpte Reading, who officiated at Beloit will be the arbitrator of the game and Reading so far has proven satisfactory. Anyway he had better play square Sunday and that with good weather and an even break of luck is all that the Cardinals ask for. Captain Eddie Leaban, the scrappy first baseman of the North Ends, is fully confident of a sweeping victory and declares the Cardinals will be lucky to have a close game let alone a victory.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estate concerns in looking for the places where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want desirable places.

Carpets, Rugs and Linoleum, Second Floor

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Lace Curtains, Draperies and Bedding, Second Floor

Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums, Etc. Second Floor.

We have a most exhaustive line from which to select. Now is the time to supply your wants in Floor Coverings, Lace Curtains, Curtain Nets, Draperies, etc. Better value for the money cannot be found.

EXTRA SPECIAL RUG VALUES.

Tapestry Brussels Rugs

Tapestry Brussels Seamless Rugs, very heavy in the new body brussels effects, pure worsted surfaces, an elegant rug, size 9x12 ft.; very special at... $11.95

Velvet Rugs

Great values for small rugs. We offer two big lots of Velvet Rugs, size 27x54 inch, in all the latest colorings and patterns, as follows:

LOT ONE AT EACH	$1.45
LOT TWO AT EACH	$1.68

Another shipment of those Celebrated Velvet Rugs with a heavy wool surface and guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. These come in high class Wilton effects.

9x12 SIZE, EXTRA VALUE, ONLY	$15.75
11-3x12 SIZE, EXTRA VALUE, ONLY	$22.50

AXMINSTER RUGS

Heavy quality Axminster Rugs, beautiful new designs and colorings, a rug for good hard wear; 9x12 size usually retails for $25.00.

9x12 SIZE, VERY SPECIAL AT	$19.75
11-3x12 SIZE, VERY SPECIAL AT	$27.75

25 ROLLS OF THE BEST ALL WOOL INGRAIN CARPETS in the new fall patterns and colorings, will be offered during this sale at... 65c

THE PERFECTION BRUSSELS RUGS

The peer of all inexpensive Rugs, with beauty and serviceability combined. Every size is made seamless. It is also made in extra large sizes.

4 ft. 6x7-6 inch seamless at	$5.00
6x9 feet seamless at	$7.75
9x9 feet seamless at	$12.75
8-3x10-6 feet seamless at	$12.75
9x12 feet seamless at	$15.00
11-3x12 feet seamless at	$20.00
11-3x13-6 feet seamless at	$23.50
11-3x15 feet seamless at	$26.50

ONE BIG LOT OF SOILED BATH ROOM RUGS WILL BE OFFERED IN THIS SALE AT VERY LOW PRICES. LINOLEUM AT SPECIAL PRICES. INLAIN AND FIGURED QUALITIES.

Now is the time to buy Linoleums. We have just added to our immense stock another big shipment, making the most comprehensive variety of patterns and ranges of qualities and prices. Remember, all Linoleums go at special prices during this sale.

THE BEACON BATHROBE BLANKETS

The maximum of wear and comfort are afforded by -BEACON BATH ROBE BLANKETS. They are warm, light and durable.

BEACON BATH ROBE BLANKETS exactly meet the demands of the man or woman who is fastidious about negligee apparel. The patterns are attractive and appropriate. Each Bath Robe Blanket is put up in an individual box with cord and tassel to match. Beacon Bath Robe Blankets, guaranteed fast colors. Let us show you the new effects,

$2.50 to $3.50

LACE CURTAINS

A new Swiss Weave Lace Curtain, made especially for two at a window, and made only 26 inches wide. This curtain, if produced in the regular size, would be equal to $5.00 value. The designs are entirely new, very rich and can be had in the new ivory and ecru tints, ask to see them; specially priced for

Pair... $1.75

Bath Robe Blankets

Fast Colors